Council Disputes Block 4 Measures

Members Battle Over Bills

Kyle Objects To Motorboat

By GAYLORD HAKE

Tempers flared and four pieces of legislation were shelved as a nine-cylinder city council chugged along on seven cylinders in a stormy session last night.

Only seven of council's nine members were present at the final regular meeting before the May 3 primary, and one dissenting vote defeated legislation which requires a three-fourths vote of the membership.

Several heated arguments developed during the evening over some of the proposed legislation.

Councilman-at-large George C. Kyle cast the dissenting vote on a piece of legislation to purchase equipment for use at the Clear Fork reservoir.

Included in the proposed ordinance was the purchase of a motor boat for the caretaker at the reservoir which was the basis of Kyle's opposition to the measure.

"I thought we weren't going to allow any motor boats on the lake, and now the city wants to put one there itself," Kyle said. "I can't go for that kind of legislation."

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn replied, "I don't know where Mr. Kyle got his information that no motor boats would be allowed on the lake. To my knowledge no rules or regulations have been made by this council prohibiting anything on the lake."

SUGGESTS SAILBOAT

Fifth Ward Councilman Fred Miller, who introduced the ordinance, asked Kyle: "How can we patrol the lake without a motor boat?" Kyle replied: "Let them use a sailboat or something."

Previously council reached a deadlock over a resolution requesting the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications for the construction of an eight-inch sanitary sewer on Educational Place from Home avenue to Arch street.

City Engineer W. C. Statler was on hand to inform council that his department had already taken this action and its findings had been submitted to council. Several councilmen then said the resolution was not needed. Kyle, who introduced the resolution, asked for its passage, but no council member would second it.

City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch was asked for a legal opinion. He

Ask Fishing In Reservoir

The Water committee of the city council had under study today a petition from the Richland county Fish and Game Protective association asking that public fishing be permitted on Clear Fork reservoir.

The petition, presented last night by K. L. Woodman, backed fishing and boating on the reservoir and cited the stand taken by state health officials that such activities would not prove detrimental to the water supply if they were controlled.

The petition specified that although there should be no permit required or fee charged for use of the waters, all persons engaging in sporting activities at the lake should be required to observe state and national laws.

The sportsmen's group also urged the establishment of "specified recreational areas" on the shores of the lake where picnic grounds or other recreational facilities could be provided. They also asked for the construction of a suitable boat dock and "controlled" landing

County Food Inspector Named

Reds Get A-Bomb Warning

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman's blunt warning that the atom bomb will be dropped on any aggressor and his fervent prayer that it will not be necessary was beamed today to Russia and her satellites.

The presidential bombshell exploded at a Democratic dinner only two days after the United States and 11 other noncommunist nations signed the North Atlantic pact committing their strength against Soviet aggression.

(French diplomatic circles interpreted Mr. Truman's statement as a warning to the Kremlin and Premier Stalin not to make any rash move in defiance of the Atlantic treaty.)

HOPES FOR PEACE

While serving his blunt notice, Mr. Truman at the same time voiced a hope that world peace will be preserved and it "will never be necessary" to unleash the dreaded atomic weapon again.

The Voice of America immediately swung into action and began short-waving the chief executive's words in a dozen foreign languages to the Soviet and all the countries behind the iron curtain.

Mr. Truman solemnly said: "If (the decision to use the atomic bomb) has to be made for the welfare of the United States—and the democracies of the world are at stake—I wouldn't hesitate to make it again."

The President of the United States has sole power to authorize use of the atom bomb.

Ex-Envoy Sees War

Bullitt Levels Blast at Moscow

LOUISVILLE, Ky., — (INS) William C. Bullitt, former U. S. ambassador to France and Russia, predicted last night the United States will go to war "although we may have brief years of respite."

Speaking before a national defense dinner in Louisville the American career diplomat said "It is tragically clear that war is once more coming to the United States." He also added:

"Stalin has mounted the saddles of both Hitler and the Japanese militarists and war will result."

Bullitt blames the war threat on the government's policy of "following the communist propaganda line that the Soviet Union was a "'peace loving democracy' and the Chinese communists mere agrarian reformers who had no connection with Moscow."

He branded the Soviet government as "a predatory totalitarian tyranny whose objective is to conquer the world for communism." The former statesman who resigned from the State department in 1942 after a split with the late President Roosevelt over foreign policy also stated:

"Stalin, like Hitler, will not stop. He can only be stopped. We cannot get off this earth. Therefore, we shall have to stop him or submit to his rule."

Anti-Pollution Act Gets First Reading

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Legislation to prohibit dumping of untreated sewage into any public waters in Ohio was up for a first reading in the state Senate today.

The proposal was unanimously voted out of the Senate judiciary committee last night with recommendation for passage.

Columbus Man Gets New Post

Tightening of Controls Seen

Closer health department control of Richland county food dispensing establishments was a step nearer today with the appointment of James P. Loomis, Columbus, to the post of sanitarian with the Mansfield - Richland county health department.

Loomis will receive a salary of $2,400 annually, plus traveling expenses. Two-thirds of the cost will be assumed by the city and the other one-third by the county.

The city and county health boards several weeks ago authorized hiring of an inspector, but Dr. Wain said he had been unable to find a man to fill the post until now.

"It is a newly-created position that fills a long-felt need of the department," Dr. Harry Wain, health commissioner, said.

BROADENS PROGRAM

"It will make possible a modern inspection system of Mansfield and Richland county restaurants, aimed at education and enforcements," Dr. Wain said.

The department's program for control of food dispensing establishments will be announced later, he said.

The new sanitarian will begin his duties here the second week in April. He is a World War II veteran and served in food inspection work with the Army in Calcutta, India.

He attended Wittenberg college and is completing an in-service training course in sanitation conducted by the state department of health.

Quiz Seven In Slaying

ALBANY, Mo. — (UP) — Seven men were implicated today in the almost-perfect murder of an 80-year-old spinster for her bucketful of outdated gold certificates.

Freddie McQuinn, 34, of Stanberry, Mo., made a written statement in which he admitted beating Mary Hammer to death with her crutch. C. E. Ernst, county attorney, said he would file murder charges against McQuinn.

Tommy Beal, Earl Emrich and Columbus McCrary were charged with larceny and Raymond Pettey with receiving stolen money in connection with the slaying.

Sheriff's deputies were enroute to Corpus Christi, Tex., to return Harold Emrich here for questioning. Sheriff Everett Bowman said McQuinn's statement implicated another man, not yet questioned. All the suspects were from Stanberry.

'X' Will Still Mark Ballots

COLUMBUS — (UP) — A mandatory "X" on Ohio ballots — an admitted political mistake of the Republican party in 1947 — today was being thrown out of the election laws by the Democratic - controlled legislature.

The Senate passed an election law revision bill yesterday and sent it to the House. The vote was 29 to 1, with 10 of the 11 Republican senators present voting to reverse their action of two years ago.

Ballots in Ohio still would be marked with an "X". The Senate-approved bill, however, would put back into the code a provision that "no ballot shall be rejected for any technical error unless it is impossible to determine the voter's choice."

VICTORY MEETING—It was the "V" for victory sign yesterday as Red Cross campaign workers met for the final clean-up after the drive went over the top with a total of $49,010. Standing, left to right, are Alvin Preyer, publicity chairman; Frank Elias, chapter chairman; Frank Berkey, industrial chairman; Mrs. Bess Augsburger, executive director of the chapter here; and Tom Mowry, retail chairman. Seated, in the same order, are Mrs. Nick Marion, chairman of townships and villages; Glenn L. Bierly, general chairman of the drive; Mrs. Richard Risser, chairman of women's division; and Thomas B. Wright, chairman of special groups.

Acts On Railroads' Request

City Council Joins Conveyor Belt Fight

Mansfield's city council has joined the railroads in their battle against construction of the big conveyor belt in northern and eastern Ohio.

Acting at the request of Mansfield's three railroads, council last night voted to oppose the granting of the right to confiscate property to belt conveyor companies in Ohio.

The council resolution will be sent to the Ohio Senate and House of Representatives and to Richland county's representative, C. L. Mitchell.

The action followed presentation of a petition signed by representatives of the Pennsylvania, Erie, and B. and O. railroads. The protest is aimed at the big conveyor system which would haul coal and iron ore to and from steel mills on Lake Erie.

Railroads in the state are fighting the proposal, and several city councils have joined them in their protest.

The council resolution asks for opposition to Senate Bill No. 150 and House Bill No. 628, now pending in the Ohio legislature, which would extend the right to forcibly acquire property to the belt conveyor companies.

The resolution states: "It is generally understood that the only belt conveyor company now in contemplation has its terminals at East Liverpool, Lorain and Cleveland.

"It is clear," the resolution says, "the conveyor belt will create no new commerce but will divert large tonnages of iron ore, limestone and coal from existing adequate transportation agencies and dock facilities."

The resolution continues: "Such traffic and revenue losses and abandonments would abolish jobs of many thousands of transportation workers in Ohio and elsewhere and create widespread unemployment in many agencies without any material offsetting employment by the belt conveyor.

"The traffic and revenue losses, abandonments and diminished usage of existing transportation systems would substantially reduce tax revenues of the state and many of its counties, municipalities, townships, school districts, with no, or very little possibility of recouping such losses from the conveyor belt."

Open Drive For $15,000

Another step in "Operation Tomorrow" got underway today as George H. Smith, chairman of the advisory board of the Salvation Army, announced the launching of a drive by that organization for $15,000 for rehabilitating its present building.

Smith said the drive will be conducted by mail, and 1,700 letters have been sent out asking for contributions. The first contribution already has been received, he added. Clyde Smaltz, of 301 Ruth avenue, sent a check for $25 before the drive officially opened.

Smith said he hopes the drive will be completed by April 20 so that repair work can be started as soon as possible.

The money will be used for new heating plant, a new gym floor, major roof repairs, interior painting, a number of minor repairs, and to liquidate the slightly more than $2,000 balance on the original mortgage.

Campaign headquarters are at the Mansfield Printing company. All checks should be made payable to Guy S. Lautsbaugh, treasurer of the advisory board.

Drop Fight On ECA Cut

Senate Nearing Final Vote

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A group of economy-minded senators today dropped the fight to cut the $5,580,000,000 bill for another 15 months of aid to western Europe.

Their decision came as the Senate neared a final vote on the aid measure in this 12th day of debate.

"There'll be no more money amendments," Senator Wherry (R-Neb) told reporters.

Wherry was one of those who fought to cut foreign aid spending.

In all, 34 amendments to the Economic Cooperation Administration act were filed. In 12 days of plodding debate, the Senate beat down 10 of them and approved five.

That left 19 on the books. But most of them were expected to be set aside in the face of the strength shown by Democratic leaders.

Among the amendments approved by the Senate were one to make about $54,000,000 available to the President for aid to China in areas he considers noncommunist.

Youth Held Under Bond

Hearing for Fred O'Keefe, 21, alias Theodore Joseph O'Keefe, of Roberts avenue, today was continued to Saturday when he entered a plea of innocent to a charge of driving an automobile without the owner's consent. He appeared in municipal court today. Bond was set at $1,500.

The charge was an outgrowth of the reported theft of an automobile from the Mansfield Auto Sales, 220 Ashland road, last Tuesday.

The automobile was recovered by sheriff's deputies in Hancock Heights off Olivesburg road, and O'Keefe was apprehended at his rooming house late Tuesday.

Kids to Gain From Marble Saving Hobby

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The grandchildren of Fred Hendricks, 64-year-old Cleveland postman, will one day be the envy of all the other kids in the neighborhood.

When they are a little older they will reap the harvest their grandfather has been storing for them in his 33 years of pavement-pounding for the Cleveland post office.

Hendricks, now about to retire his mail carrier's uniform, has collected over 5,200 shiny, multicolored marbles from the sidewalks and lawns of his mail route.

Chief Again Asks More Policemen

Renews Request To City Council

Mansfield's police department is sorely in need of more personnel, Chief Jesse J. Schawb told city council at its meeting last night.

"The department has a tremendous task and it is a miracle we can hold everything down," the chief said in requesting 10 more patrolmen, five traffic officers, four detectives and a woman stenographer. The chief made this same request in 1948.

"Crime is on the increase," Chief Schawb said, "not only locally, but all over the country."

He said the increase is a result of the growing number of persons jobless as industry reverts to pre-war level.

A council committee to work with the police department "to better understand the problems of the department, was requested by Chief Schwab.

BIG PAROLE LOAD

There are 125 persons on parole from Federal and State institutions in this area, the chief told council.

He said the woman stenographer was needed to release the department's police woman from secretarial duties.

A police woman has been appointed, Schwab said, but she has been kept busy keeping records in the identification bureau up to date.

"The identification bureau is one of our most important departments", the chief said, "and we must keep those records up to date."

Slashed Body Delivered to Funeral Home

ST. CLAIRSVILLE — (AP) — A motorist banged on the door of the Beck Funeral home today and reported he had a dead man in his automobile.

Dr. J. B. Martin found the body of Robert B. Wren, 48, of South Vienna, Clark county, in the car. There was a 4-inch gash in the throat and the jugular vein had been severed.

The motorist, Otis B. Sheet, 36, a South Vienna contractor, was taken to the jail for questioning.

Sheets reported Wren had been attacked in St. Clairsville, but appeared unable to provide details.

Three Killed In Air Crash

ALLENTOWN, PA. — (INS) — Two survivors of a mountainside airplane crash which killed three other persons struggled for life today in Allentown hospital.

Six-year-old Kenneth Blekicki, brilliant saxophone virtuoso, and Daniel De Turk, 24, both of Reading, Pa., were reported in critical condition with multiple injuries. Each suffered possible fractures of both legs.

The others apparently died instantly when a five-seater plane cracked up against the side of Blue mountain, 20 miles north of Allentown.

Assured Income Proposed

Trumanites Urge Subsidies

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Truman administration offered a new farm program today aimed at giving consumers a "real break" on food prices and farmers a stable, fair income.

It would use many of the economic devices now employed by the government. But it would make a major change designed to put more meat, milk, other dairy products, eggs, and poultry in retail stores at lower price tags.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan outlined the plan before a joint meeting of the House and Senate Agriculture committees. It is the administration's substitute for the Aiken farm law passed by the Republican 80th Congress.

The new program—like the present one—would use the mechanism of government price or income guarantees to farmers.

But unlike the present program, the government would not attempt to hold up, or put a floor under, market prices of foods making up 75 per cent of the farm output. Instead, it would allow prices to move freely under influences of supply and demand. It now buys and holds off the market enough of these foods to keep prices at farm guaranteed levels.

FARM SUBSIDY

In times of big supplies of most items, prices would drop below present levels. The farmer would get government payments to supplement money he received from sale of his products.

For example, under the present program, the government strives to keep prices of eggs from dropping below 35 cents a dozen on the farm. It does this by buying and removing from the market enough of the supply to keep prices from going below 35 cents.

Under the new plan, the government, would not interfere with the price movement.

The farmer would get a payment from the government covering the difference between the market price and the return which the program said he should receive.

This new support system would be used for meat animals, milk, butterfat, eggs, poultry, fruits and vegetables. These products provide three-fourths of annual farm income.

Reds Bare Attack Plan

NANKING — (INS) — The Chinese communists announced today they will march on Nanking, the Nationalist capital.

The communist Peiping radio claimed that the government is making plans for a large-scale military expansion to mount a counter-offensive and said that an attack on Nanking is the only way of frustrating the Nationalist strategy.

The broadcast charged that the government is planning an overall regrouping of its battered forces with the hope of expanding from 1,100,000 men to 5,000,000.

The expansion, the Reds asserted, is to be handled through 14 headquarters scattered throughout central and south China.

The radio said that the Nationalist peace delegation which arrived in Peiping last Friday asked an unconditional cease fire in an attempt to delay a communist crossing of the Yangtze river and in order to gain a "breathing spell" to regroup its strength.

The broadcast added that the Nanking govern-ment" cannot realize its dream" because of the impending communist river crossing and attack on Nanking.

Dime Remains of Alleged 'Booty'

NEW YORK — (UP) — Ex-banker Richard F. Crowe rubbed his last two nickels together in his jail cell today while authorities tried to find $753,507 of the $884,660 he ran away with 13 days ago.

The 41-year-old Crowe, held in $100,000 bail awaiting grand jury indictments, said he threw $690,000 in bonds into New York harbor before he fled to Florida for a week in the sun. But authorities appeared skeptical.

Good Advice to Youngsters:

Keep Kites Away From Power Lines!

A kite coasting along on spring air currents is a harmless appearing sight, but actually a kite is a potentially dangerous device.

Charles R. Fichter, 654 Courtright boulevard, division safety supervisor for the Ohio Public Service company, advised youngsters to fly their kites in the open and away from power lines.

When a kite tangles with power lines there is a chance the boy holding the kite string may be injured.

And there is the possibility the youngster may attempt to free his kite from the wires by climbing a pole. "We will send out a lineman to get the youngster's kite, rather than have him attempt to climb a pole," Fichter said.

"It is unthinkable that a metallic kite string would be manufactured," Fichter said, "but they are on the market."

Never use a metallic or tinsel cord for a kite string, he said. And don't use any metal parts in constructing a kite.

Another rule is don't fly a kite in wet weather. An ordinary kite string when wet could transmit a fatal electrical shock if it came in contact with a high voltage line.

Fichter said he's not trying to spoil the youngsters' fun, but kites and power lines are a dangerous combination.

Golfing Clan Talks of 'The Haig'

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK — (UP) — The golfing clan is gathered in Augusta this week for the masters and the locker room lyricists might like to know that their chief subject—Walter Hagen — is in "robust" health again today after a rough winter.

Hagen has been gone from competitive golf for a number of years now. But wherever and whenever the golf gang gets together you can be certain that much of the conversation will be about the man they fondly call "the Haig."

Maybe much of it is because of what he did for the pros. For nobody can doubt that it was Sir Walter who broke down the social barriers and gained entree to the clubhouse for the men who make their living by hitting a little white ball.

Certainly he was made for such a job, for Hagen always was the old man river of self - enjoyment, a suavely boisterous man who played golf to live and not to make a living.

Yet he was the first golfer to make a million — and the first to spend it. Walter won 55 major titles, including two U. S. opens, four British opens and five PGA championships. But he picked up more checks than any man of his time, three more parties and spent more for clothes.

He liked to stand around and belt the old songs and the older vintages. And his personal philosophy was:

"Don't hurry, don't worry. You're only here on a short visit so you might as well smell the flowers."

Another reason that the tales of his swashbuckling career consume so many nostalgic hours in merry clubhouse evenings is that the stories are gay, and true.

There was the time, for instance, when Hagen arrived at the starting tee a mere half hour late and a pompous club official inquired:

"Practicing a few shots, Walter?"

"Nope," Hagen replied nonchalantly. "Having a few."

And on another occasion, Sir Walter kept the Duke of Windsor, once his majesty, King Edward VIII, waiting 45 minutes at the tee. And the match was hardly under way when Hagen prompted:

"Take the pin, Eddie, I think I'm going to hole this one."

"Eddie" did. So did Walter.

The stories of Hagen are many, but all illustrate the ease and freedom he gave the game, the relaxed concentration which carried him to greatness and his successful psychology.

At 57, Hagen now is opening his own golf club ompany in Grand Rapids, Mich.

But even at this age, if it was one shot that was needed to win this week's master at Augusta, any pro in the tournament would be glad to let Sir Walter make it for him.

INDIANS STILL HAVE HOPE—Baseball talk on the Hollywood set involves two well-known major leaguers, Bing Crosby (left) and Manager Lou Boudreau of the Indians. Der Bingle is part owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Bob Hope, Bing's close friend and stockholder in the Cleveland club, came in for discussion and wisecracks.

Maryland Nixes Championship Go

BALTIMORE, Md., —(UP)— Thomas P. McDonagh, chairman of the state athletic commission, said today that Maryland will not recognize the winner of the Ezzard Charles—Joe Walcott fight in June as the world champion.

The Maryland boxing missioner said that an elimination tournament should be held tp pick a "legitimate champion."

Ex-Dentist Gets Favorite Role In 13th Masters Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga.—(AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the former Memphis dentist, was the favorite today in the first round of the Masters golf tournament.

On Masters eve, Middlecoff finally became the favorite with his fellow golfers, the gallery, and the men who make it their business to know.

The 28-year-old native of Halls, Tenn., had been bunched with golf's greatest tournament players — Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy Demaret, Byron Nelson, Bobby Locke and Sammy Snead, as the favorites of the Masters.

Mangrum is second in the pickings.

A recently discovered putting touch, together with consistency of his green-to-tee game, made Sammy Snead the No. 3 man to beat over the damp and gusty Augusta National course of 6,900 yards.

Other picks in this field of champions rank this way: Jimmy Demaret, Byron Nelson, defending champion Claude Harmon, and amateur Frank Stranahan.

The 13th Masters has the heavy spice of internationalism. Most colorful of all is Count John de Bendern, formerly Johnny de Forrest, the 1932 British amateur champion is in the midst of a comeback which finds him with "a spot of trouble with my woods."

Best known of the international set is Bobby Locke from Johannesburg, South Africa. This is Locke's third Masters.

This is Middlecoff's big year so far. His highlights of 1949 are runner-up at the Houston invitational; winner at the Rio Grande Valley Open; runner-up at the St. Petersburg Open; winner of the Miami four-ball, and partner of Jim Ferrier in winning the Jacksonville Open.

The team will likely be entered in a proposed county semi-pro league to be operated by the Mansfield Athletic commission.

Council Disputes Block 4 Measures

Members Battle Over Bills

Kyle Objects To Motorboat

By GAYLORD HAKE

Tempers flared and four pieces of legislation were shelved as a nine-cylinder city council chugged along on seven cylinders in a stormy session last night.

Only seven of council's nine members were present at the final regular meeting before the May 3 primary, and one dissenting vote defeated legislation which requires a three-fourths vote of the membership.

Several heated arguments developed during the evening over some of the proposed legislation.

Councilman-at-large George C. Kyle cast the dissenting vote on a piece of legislation to purchase equipment for use at the Clear Fork reservoir.

Included in the proposed ordinance was the purchase of a motor boat for the caretaker at the reservoir which was the basis of Kyle's opposition to the measure.

"I thought we weren't going to allow any motor boats on the lake, and now the city wants to put one there itself," Kyle said. "I can't go for that kind of legislation."

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn replied, "I don't know where Mr. Kyle got his information that no motor boats would be allowed on the lake. To my knowledge no rules or regulations have been made by this council prohibiting anything on the lake."

SUGGESTS SAILBOAT

Fifth Ward Councilman Fred Miller, who introduced the ordinance, asked Kyle: "How can we patrol the lake without a motor boat?" Kyle replied: "Let them use a sailboat or something."

Previously council reached a deadlock over a resolution requesting the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications for the construction of an eight-inch sanitary sewer on Educational Place from Home avenue to Arch street.

City Engineer W. C. Statler was on hand to inform council that his department had already taken this action and its findings had been submitted to council. Several councilmen then said the resolution was not needed. Kyle, who introduced the resolution, asked for its passage, but no council member would second it.

City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch was asked for a legal opinion. He

Ask Fishing In Reservoir

The Water committee of the city council had under study today a petition from the Richland county Fish and Game Protective association asking that public fishing be permitted on Clear Fork reservoir.

The petition, presented last night by K. L. Woodman, backed fishing and boating on the reservoir and cited the stand taken by state health officials that such activities would not prove detrimental to the water supply if they were controlled.

The petition specified that although there should be no permit required or fee charged for use of the waters, all persons engaging in sporting activities at the lake should be required to observe state and national laws.

The sportsmen's group also urged the establishment of "specified recreational areas" on the shores of the lake where picnic grounds or other recreational facilities could be provided. They also asked for the construction of a suitable boat dock and "controlled" landing

County Food Inspector Named

Reds Get A-Bomb Warning

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman's blunt warning that the atom bomb will be dropped on any aggressor and his fervent prayer that it will not be necessary was beamed today to Russia and her satellites.

The presidential bombshell exploded at a Democratic dinner only two days after the United States and 11 other non-communist nations signed the North Atlantic pact committing their strength against Soviet aggression.

(French diplomatic circles interpreted Mr. Truman's statement as a warning to the Kremlin and Premier Stalin not to make any rash move in defiance of the Atlantic treaty.)

HOPES FOR PEACE

While serving his blunt notice, Mr. Truman at the same time voiced a hope that world peace will be preserved and it "will never be necessary" to unleash the dreaded atomic weapon again.

The Voice of America immediately swung into action and began short-waving the chief executive's words in a dozen foreign languages to the Soviet and all the countries behind the iron curtain.

Mr. Truman solemnly said: "If (the decision to use the atomic bomb) has to be made for the welfare of the United States—and the democracies of the world are at stake—I wouldn't hesitate to make it again."

The President of the United States has sole power to authorize use of the atom bomb.

Ex-Envoy Sees War

Bullitt Levels Blast at Moscow

LOUISVILLE, Ky., — (INS) William C. Bullitt, former U. S. ambassador to France and Russia, predicted last night the United States will go to war "although we may have brief years of respite."

Speaking before a national defense dinner in Louisville the American career diplomat said "It is tragically clear that war is once more coming to the United States." He also added:

"Stalin has mounted the saddles of both Hitler and the Japanese militarists and war will result."

Bullitt blames the war threat on the government's policy of "following the communist propaganda line that the Soviet Union was a "'peace loving democracy' and the Chinese communists mere agrarian reformers who had no connection with Moscow."

He branded the Soviet government as "a predatory totalitarian tyranny whose objective is to conquer the world for communism." The former statesman who resigned from the State department in 1942 after a split with the late President Roosevelt over foreign policy also stated:

"Stalin, like Hitler, will not stop. He can only be stopped. We cannot get off this earth. Therefore, we shall have to stop him or submit to his rule."

Anti-Pollution Act Gets First Reading

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Legislation to prohibit dumping of untreated sewage into any public waters in Ohio was up for a first reading in the state Senate today.

The proposal was unanimously voted out of the Senate judiciary committee last night with recommendation for passage.

Columbus Man Gets New Post

Tightening of Controls Seen

Closer health department control of Richland county food dispensing establishments was a step nearer today with the appointment of James P. Loomis, Columbus, to the post of sanitarian with the Mansfield - Richland county health department.

Loomis will receive a salary of $2,400 annually, plus traveling expenses. Two-thirds of the cost will be assumed by the city and the other one-third by the county.

The city and county health boards several weeks ago authorized hiring of an inspector, but Dr. Wain said he had been unable to find a man to fill the post until now.

"It is a newly-created position that fills a long-felt need of the department," Dr. Harry Wain, health commissioner, said.

BROADENS PROGRAM

"It will make possible a modern inspection system of Mansfield and Richland county restaurants, aimed at education and enforcements," Dr. Wain said.

The department's program for control of food dispensing establishments will be announced later, he said.

The new sanitarian will begin his duties here the second week in April. He is a World War II veteran and served in food inspection work with the Army in Calcutta, India.

He attended Wittenberg college and is completing an in-service training course in sanitation conducted by the state department of health.

Quiz Seven In Slaying

ALBANY, Mo. — (UP) — Seven men were implicated today in the almost-perfect murder of an 80-year-old spinster for her bucketful of outdated gold certificates.

Freddie McQuinn, 34, of Stanberry, Mo., made a written statement in which he admitted beating Mary Hammer to death with her crutch. C. E. Ernst, county attorney, said he would file murder charges against McQuinn.

Tommy Beal, Earl Emrich and Columbus McCrary were charged with larceny and Raymond Pettey with receiving stolen money in connection with the slaying.

Sheriff's deputies were enroute to Corpus Christi, Tex., to return Harold Emrich here for questioning. Sheriff Everett Bowman said McQuinn's statement implicated another man, not yet questioned. All the suspects were from Stanberry.

'X' Will Still Mark Ballots

COLUMBUS — (UP) — A mandatory "X" on Ohio ballots — an admitted political mistake of the Republican party in 1947 — today was being thrown out of the election laws by the Democratic - controlled legislature.

The Senate passed an election law revision bill yesterday and sent it to the House. The vote was 29 to 1, with 10 of the 11 Republican senators present voting to reverse their action of two years ago.

Ballots in Ohio still would be marked with an "X". The Senate-approved bill, however, would put back into the code a provision that "no ballot shall be rejected for any technical error unless it is impossible to determine the voter's choice."

VICTORY MEETING—It was the "V" for victory sign yesterday as Red Cross campaign workers met for the final clean-up after the drive went over the top with a total of $49,010. Standing, left to right, are Alvin Preyer, publicity chairman; Frank Elias, chapter chairman; Frank Berkey, industrial chairman; Mrs. Bess Augsburger, executive director of the chapter here; and Tom Mowry, retail chairman. Seated, in the same order, are Mrs. Nick Marion, chairman of townships and villages; Glenn L. Bierly, general chairman of the drive; Mrs. Richard Risser, chairman of women's division; and Thomas B. Wright, chairman of special groups.

Acts On Railroads' Request

City Council Joins Conveyor Belt Fight

Mansfield's city council has joined the railroads in their battle against construction of the big conveyor belt in northern and eastern Ohio.

Acting at the request of Mansfield's three railroads, council last night voted to oppose the granting of the right to confiscate property to belt conveyor companies in Ohio.

The council resolution will be sent to the Ohio Senate and House of Representatives and to Richland county's representative, C. L. Mitchell.

The action followed presentation of a petition signed by representatives of the Pennsylvania, Erie, and B. and O. railroads. The protest is aimed at the big conveyor system which would haul coal and iron ore to and from steel mills on Lake Erie.

Railroads in the state are fighting the proposal, and several city councils have joined them in their protest.

The council resolution asks for opposition to Senate Bill No. 150 and House Bill No. 628, now pending in the Ohio legislature, which would extend the right to forcibly acquire property to the belt conveyor companies.

The resolution states: "It is generally understood that the only belt conveyor company now in contemplation has its terminals at East Liverpool, Lorain and Cleveland.

"It is clear," the resolution says, "the conveyor belt will create no new commerce but will divert large tonnages of iron ore, limestone and coal from existing adequate transportation agencies and dock facilities."

The resolution continues: "Such traffic and revenue losses and abandonments would abolish jobs of many thousands of transportation workers in Ohio and elsewhere and create widespread unemployment in many agencies without any material offsetting employment by the belt conveyor.

"The traffic and revenue losses, abandonments and diminished usage of existing transportation systems would substantially reduce tax revenues of the state and many of its counties, municipalities, townships, school districts, with no, or very little possibility of recouping such losses from the conveyor belt."

Open Drive For $15,000

Another step in "Operation Tomorrow" got underway today as George H. Smith, chairman of the advisory board of the Salvation Army, announced the launching of a drive by that organization for $15,000 for rehabilitating its present building.

Smith said the drive will be conducted by mail, and 1,700 letters have been sent out asking for contributions. The first contribution already has been received, he added. Clyde Smaltz, of 301 Ruth avenue, sent a check for $25 before the drive officially opened.

Smith said he hopes the drive will be completed by April 20 so that repair work can be started as soon as possible.

The money will be used for new heating plant, a new gym floor, major roof repairs, interior painting, a number of minor repairs, and to liquidate the slightly more than $2,000 balance on the original mortgage.

Campaign headquarters are at the Mansfield Printing company. All checks should be made payable to Guy S. Lautsbaugh, treasurer of the advisory board.

Drop Fight On ECA Cut

Senate Nearing Final Vote

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A group of economy-minded senators today dropped the fight to cut the $5,580,000,000 bill for another 15 months of aid to western Europe.

Their decision came as the Senate neared a final vote on the aid measure in this 12th day of debate.

"There'll be no more money amendments," Senator Wherry (R-Neb) told reporters.

Wherry was one of those who fought to cut foreign aid spending.

In all, 34 amendments to the Economic Cooperation Administration act were filed. In 12 days of plodding debate, the Senate beat down 10 of them and approved five.

That left 19 on the books. But most of them were expected to be set aside in the face of the strength shown by Democratic leaders.

Among the amendments approved by the Senate were one to make about $54,000,000 available to the President for aid to China in areas he considers non-communist.

Youth Held Under Bond

Hearing for Fred O'Keefe, 21, alias Theodore Joseph O'Keefe, of Roberts avenue, today was continued to Saturday when he entered a plea of innocent to a charge of driving an automobile without the owner's consent. He appeared in municipal court today. Bond was set at $1,500.

The charge was an outgrowth of the reported theft of an automobile from the Mansfield Auto Sales, 220 Ashland road, last Tuesday.

The automobile was recovered by sheriff's deputies in Hancock Heights off Olivesburg road, and O'Keefe was apprehended at his rooming house late Tuesday.

Kids to Gain From Marble Saving Hobby

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The grandchildren of Fred Hendricks, 64-year-old Cleveland postman, will one day be the envy of all the other kids in the neighborhood.

When they are a little older they will reap the harvest their grandfather has been storing for them in his 33 years of pavement-pounding for the Cleveland post office.

Hendricks, now about to retire his mail carrier's uniform, has collected over 5,200 shiny, multicolored marbles from the sidewalks and lawns of his mail route.

Chief Again Asks More Policemen

Renews Request To City Council

Mansfield's police department is sorely in need of more personnel, Chief Jesse J. Schawb told city council at its meeting last night.

"The department has a tremendous task and it is a miracle we can hold everything down," the chief said in requesting 10 more patrolmen, five traffic officers, four detectives and a woman stenographer. The chief made this same request in 1948.

"Crime is on the increase," Chief Schawb said, "not only locally, but all over the country."

He said the increase is a result of the growing number of persons jobless as industry reverts to pre-war level.

A council committee to work with the police department "to better understand the problems of the department, was requested by Chief Schwab.

BIG PAROLE LOAD

There are 125 persons on parole from Federal and State institutions in this area, the chief told council.

He said the woman stenographer was needed to release the department's police woman from secretarial duties.

A police woman has been appointed, Schwab said, but she has been kept busy keeping records in the identification bureau up to date.

"The identification bureau is one of our most important departments", the chief said, "and we must keep those records up to date."

Slashed Body Delivered to Funeral Home

ST. CLAIRSVILLE — (AP) — A motorist banged on the door of the Beck Funeral home today and reported he had a dead man in his automobile.

Dr. J. B. Martin found the body of Robert B. Wren, 48, of South Vienna, Clark county, in the car. There was a 4-inch gash in the throat and the jugular vein had been severed.

The motorist, Otis B. Sheet, 36, a South Vienna contractor, was taken to the jail for questioning.

Sheets reported Wren had been attacked in St. Clairsville, but appeared unable to provide details.

Three Killed In Air Crash

ALLENTOWN, PA. — (INS) — Two survivors of a mountainside airplane crash which killed three other persons struggled for life today in Allentown hospital.

Six-year-old Kenneth Blekicki, brilliant saxophone virtuoso, and Daniel De Turk, 24, both of Reading, Pa., were reported in critical condition with multiple injuries. Each suffered possible fractures of both legs.

The others apparently died instantly when a five-seater plane cracked up against the side of Blue mountain, 20 miles north of Allentown.

Assured Income Proposed

Trumanites Urge Subsidies

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Truman administration offered a new farm program today aimed at giving consumers a "real break" on food prices and farmers a stable, fair income.

It would use many of the economic devices now employed by the government. But it would make a major change designed to put more meat, milk, other dairy products, eggs, and poultry in retail stores at lower price tags.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan outlined the plan before a joint meeting of the House and Senate Agriculture committees. It is the administration's substitute for the Aiken farm law passed by the Republican 80th Congress.

The new program—like the present one—would use the mechanism of government price or income guarantees to farmers.

But unlike the present program, the government would not attempt to hold up, or put a floor under, market prices of foods making up 75 per cent of the farm output. Instead, it would allow prices to move freely under influences of supply and demand. It now buys and holds off the market enough of these foods to keep prices at farm guaranteed levels.

FARM SUBSIDY

In times of big supplies of most items, prices would drop below present levels. The farmer would get government payments to supplement money he received from sale of his products.

For example, under the present program, the government strives to keep prices of eggs from dropping below 35 cents a dozen on the farm. It does this by buying and removing from the market enough of the supply to keep prices from going below 35 cents.

Under the new plan, the government, would not interfere with the price movement.

The farmer would get a payment from the government covering the difference between the market price and the return which the program said he should receive.

This new support system would be used for meat animals, milk, butterfat, eggs, poultry, fruits and vegetables. These products provide three-fourths of annual farm income.

Reds Bare Attack Plan

NANKING — (INS) — The Chinese communists announced today they will march on Nanking, the Nationalist capital.

The communist Peiping radio claimed that the government is making plans for a large-scale military expansion to mount a counter-offensive and said that an attack on Nanking is the only way of frustrating the Nationalist strategy.

The broadcast charged that the government is planning an overall regrouping of its battered forces with the hope of expanding from 1,100,000 men to 5,000,000.

The expansion, the Reds asserted, is to be handled through 14 headquarters scattered throughout central and south China.

The radio said that the Nationalist peace delegation which arrived in Peiping last Friday asked an unconditional cease fire in an attempt to delay a communist crossing of the Yangtze river and in order to gain a "breathing spell" to regroup its strength.

The broadcast added that the Nanking govern-ment" cannot realize its dream" because of the impending communist river crossing and attack on Nanking.

Dime Remains of Alleged 'Booty'

NEW YORK — (UP) — Ex-banker Richard F. Crowe rubbed his last two nickels together in his jail cell today while authorities tried to find $753,507 of the $884,660 he ran away with 13 days ago.

The 41-year-old Crowe, held in $100,000 bail awaiting grand jury indictments, said he threw $690,000 in bonds into New York harbor before he fled to Florida for a week in the sun. But authorities appeared skeptical.

Good Advice to Youngsters:

Keep Kites Away From Power Lines!

A kite coasting along on spring air currents is a harmless appearing sight, but actually a kite is a potentially dangerous device.

Charles R. Fichter, 654 Courtright boulevard, division safety supervisor for the Ohio Public Service company, advised youngsters to fly their kites in the open and away from power lines.

When a kite tangles with power lines there is a chance the boy holding the kite string may be injured.

And there is the possibility the youngster may attempt to free his kite from the wires by climbing a pole. "We will send out a lineman to get the youngster's kite, rather than have him attempt to climb a pole," Fichter said.

"It is unthinkable that a metallic kite string would be manufactured," Fichter said, "but they are on the market."

Never use a metallic or tinsel cord for a kite string, he said. And don't use any metal parts in constructing a kite.

Another rule is don't fly a kite in wet weather. An ordinary kite string when wet could transmit a fatal electrical shock if it came in contact with a high voltage line.

Fichter said he's not trying to spoil the youngsters' fun, but kites and power lines are a dangerous combination.

One-Third Are Fire Traps

Inspection Reveals Hazards In Schools

COLUMBUS —(UP)— The State Industrial Relations department yesterday branded more than one-third of 636 buildings in use by Ohio's colleges and schools as fire hazards. A. A. Woldman, director of the department, said his inspectors, prompted by the recent disastrous fire at Old Kenyon Hall, Kenyon college, investigated 151 buildings in the colleges and 485 in use by public and parochial schools.

He said the department issued mandatory orders against 54 colleges and universities and 169 schools, ordering them to correct the conditions as soon as possible.

Some of the violations, he said, included:

1. Inadequate number and improper means of escape and obstruction of exits.

2. Inadequate and improper fire escapes.

3. Failure to provide stand pipes and fire escapes.

4. Failure to provide proper fire alarm systems.

5. Failure to install all wiring in conduits and in accordance with the 1940 national electric code of the National Board of Underwriters.

6. Failure to provide fireproof heaters and fuel rooms.

7. Failure to provide exit lights and signs.

8. Prevalence of defective flues.

9. Failure to maintain fire extinguishers in operating condition.

Hints Gamblers To Go Thirsty

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Mayor Albert D. Cash has figured out a new way to stop operation of gambling establishments. He said he would ask the city solicitor to determine whether the city could shut off water service at commercial gambling places.

If the city has that right, the mayor said he would ask that appropriate legislation be prepared.

Will Ignore Red Notes

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The United States as far as formal action is concerned will ignore Soviet notes charging that the north Atlantic defense treaty is an aggressive act aimed at Russia.

The State department revealed yesterday that it will make no direct answer to the Kremlin charges which already have been rejected by President Truman and by the foreign ministers of the alliance nations.

The 12 foreign ministers issued a joint statement last Saturday denying aggressive aims and stressing the peaceful objectives of the pact and its subordination to the United Nations charter.

Mr. Truman in his address at the pact-signing ceremony Monday denounced the Russian charges as "absolutely untrue."

Trial Date Named In Liquor Bribes

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Franklin county Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett yesterday set the date for the trial of former Portsmouth chief liquor permit inspector A. E. Oppenheimer on charges of soliciting and accepting bribes.

Bartlett said Oppenheimer will be tried April 25 in Franklin county Criminal Court for accepting money from license applicants.

Other speakers will be John B. Fullen, secretary of the alumni association, and J. Edward Weaver, field secretary of the association. They will present a picture of the advances in education and technical training which have become a part of the university curricula.

Hatcher joined the university faculty in 1922, was promoted to dean of the College of Arts and Sciences in 1944, and became vice president of the university last September. He was assigned the chairmanship of the university's 75th anniversary committee in 1948. Author of numerous professional articles and several books, he also is well-known as a lecturer.

Fullen completed 20 years as secretary-editor of the alumni association last June, and Weaver joined the association staff in the fall of 1946.

In addition to the speeches, campus representatives will report on Ohio State's spring football activities and give forecasts of the games next fall.

New officers of the chapter here will be elected at the meeting. Present officers include Richard R. Stander, president; Louis P. Jisa, vice president; Mrs. W. W. Tawse, secretary; and Dr. S. E. Taylor, treasurer.

Hospital Insurance Available To Individuals Next Week

Individual Mansfielders and Richland Countians will be offered enrollment in the Blue Cross Hospitalization plan and the Blue Shield Surgical Care program next week, Wayne Copeland, superintendent of General hospital, announced today.

The plans were formerly offered only to persons working in organizations where ten or more people were employed. Now, anyone may apply for the plan; there is no age limit, nor physical examination required, Copeland said.

Dean W. Dickerson, president of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce, said the enrollment has the endorsement of the Chamber's board of directors.

The community enrollment will be carried on simultaneously in other Richland communities. Yes, Red Cross Goal Is Reached

CERTAINLY, Mansfield and Richland county reached and topped the Red Cross campaign goal of $48,385—it merely took a little longer than in some other cities and counties.

There was no question at any time about final success of the campaign— it was simply a matter of some people giving more in order to make up any temporary deficit caused by disinclination or inability of some folks to contribute a fair share of the total.

The work of the Red Cross, locally and nationally, is so generally recognized as essential that a vast majority of people here and elsewhere regularly budget a liberal contribution to this organization.

Speed with which the Red Cross swung into action with relief work in connection with the Effingham, Ill., hospital fire, is presented as a current example of its readiness to serve promptly and well when need arises—and no community can be regarded as entirely safe from disaster of some kind.

Republican Contest Takes Odd Turn

NOW THAT the subject of Mansfield's wide-open gambling has entered into the Republican pre-primary campaign, with information to the effect that "word has been passed out" by top-notchers in illegal gambling operations to oppose the nomination of Thomas B. Wright for mayor, natural assumption is that these interests are quite well satisfied with the "hands off" policy now in effect under the administration of Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, candidate for third term Republican nomination.

There might have been some question as to satisfaction of operators of gambling places with administration attitude along this line during February and March last year, when an effective ban on commercialized gambling was imposed by Chief of Police Schwab, sanctioned (he said) by Mayor Vaughn.

There can be no question, however, as to complete satisfaction of the gambling fraternity with conditions that have existed during the past year, with return of the horse race bookie in its familiar location not far from the police station, and resumption of all the customary forms of illegal gambling.

As was said in a recent issue of the Tampa, Fla., Tribune, discussing gambling on a local and national scale, "The dependence of organized gambling on the attitude of law enforcement officers explains why the racket bosses pour money and manpower into elections. . . . Organized gambling cannot run if the law enforcement officers or the executives who have power over them are determined to stop gambling."

As the pre-primary campaign progresses toward the May 3 voting date it can be anticipated that more will be heard on the subject of alignment of supporters of the two opposing Republican candidates for the mayoralty nomination as this is a matter of natural interest and suited to general discussion.

Disposing of Useless Committees

LOUIS JOHNSON, the new secretary of defense, has made an eye-opening start in his job by abolishing nine committees and boards in the defense establishment, which he found to be useless in his first examination of the department. He said that was only a beginning, and has directed the secretaries of Army, Navy and the Air Force to start gathering information on which more eliminations can be made.

Perhaps with the brashness of a new member of the cabinet, Mr. Johnson has raised his hand against a plague not only of the defense department but of the whole government. There are some 800 committees and boards in the defense establishment; in the total government structure there are thousands and thousands. The number which are obsolete or otherwise useless can only be guessed at.

Committees and boards are set up casually to do tasks which someone thinks should be done. When the task is finished the committee or board perpetuates itself and seldom does anyone take the trouble to get rid of it.

Taxpayers will wish all power to Secretary Johnson in his attack on useless jobs within his bailiwick, and will wish that a few other department and agency heads might decide to follow his example.

Claude Callan presents the cheerful thought: "If you make something of your children they will resent it in their youth, but finally they will forgive you."

Westbrook Pegler, vacationing in Arizona, is bothered by barking dogs—which should at least take his mind off some of his other annoyances.

One observer comments: "Men should be boss in their own homes, or know the reason why—and most of them know the reason why."

Many are the charms of a small telescope on a bright night.

By the way, where's that lawn mower?

TODAY IN HISTORY

On April 7, 1911, Count Zeppelin carried a number of passengers from Friedrichshafen to Stuttgart in his dirigible balloon.

Dave Boone Says:

THE North Atlantic Pact has been signed and while it may prove so much eyewash, we had better pray hard and work hard for it. This is a good season in which to cling to faith and good will in a dark hour in history.

* * *

The United Nations must wonder if it is the star or the understudy, but in this organization, as in the pact, there is the great hope of "the stone rolled away."

* * *

The Easter season is a symbol of the triumph of love over hate and of peace over men of violence. This thought was in the minds of millions as the pact was signed.

* * *

It eclipsed all thought of the speeches, the ceremonies the broadcasting and the general whoop-do-do. And well it might.

As Cerf Tells It

Charlie MacArthur tells of the ham actor who was jailed on a counterfeiting charge, and complained to the warden. "My personality is being crushed here. You have taken away my illustrious name and given me a mere number." The warden, who was in a good humor, said, "If it will make you any happier, we'll give you a new number." The ham actor, mollified, conceded. "I guess the old one will do—but could you possibly put it in italics?"

Frankly Speaking

Pressure Being Applied

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — We're putting pressure on Russia. But it's not a one-way street. Russia is putting plenty on us.

It would be a bold prophet who could say where this pressure on us will end, or how.

To stop Russia and communism, we've built up our armed forces, set up the Marshall Plan on a big scale, and joined the Atlantic Pact.

All those things are tied in with our well-being and survival. But they're putting big pressure on us because they cost big money.

And spending the money is linked in with our prosperity, present and future, for better or worse.

President Truman figures we must spend around $43 billion in the year beginning July 1.

That's about $2 billion more than the taxes he thinks the government will take in to pay the bill. So he wants Congress to raise taxes to cover the deficit.

But almost half that total cost —or $21 billion—is due to the steps we've taken on account of Russia: $15 billion for the armed forces; $5 billion for the Marshall Plan; $1 billion for the Atlantic Pact to help arm our allies.

If we were not worried about Russia, there'd be no need for an Atlantic Pact, the Marshall Plan would cost far less, the expense for our armed forces would be only a fraction of the $15 billion we intend to spend next year, and Mr. Truman could ask for a big tax cut instead of tax raise.

* * *

Considering Both Sides.

TO AVOID the need of a tax boost, some senators want to cut down the Marshall aid and spend little or nothing on the Atlantic Pact. But the argument against them goes like this:

In the end it will cost far more if the western European nations collapse under communist pressure for want of the aid we can give them now. Why?

So long as they stand as a wall between us and Russia, we don't have to spend more than $15 billion on our own armed forces.

But if western Europe is overrun by Russia, then we'll have to spend many, many times $15 billion on our armed forces.

By keeping us jittery and so forcing us into the present huge spending, the Russians probably feel they are pushing us slowly but surely along the road to an American economic bust which their own economists predict must come sooner or later.

The huge expense we're bearing now, on account of Russia, certainly isn't something that fits into a sound economy.

Prices have started falling here. Unemployment has grown. Yet, a lot of the $21 billion we plan to spend next year on account of Russia is tied in with present American production, and with jobs, too.

What, then, would happen to the American economy if worry about Russia suddenly ended and tomorrow the government could cancel out most of its plans for spending the $15 billion?

In addition to all this, many Americans who treasure the free enterprise system and loathe socialism, are watching American money pouring into Britain and France and helping the progress of socialism there.

But it's impossible not to help them. They're our strongest allies. And it's impossible to wave goodbye to the rest of the world.

For anyone can see what that would mean:

With communists overrunning Asia now, if Russia took over Europe, we'd be practically alone in the world. It's doubtful we could survive. So we are forced to spend billions to save our skins.

Listen World

Not 'All For the Best'

By ELSIE ROBINSON

THERE are a number of cherished old axioms which I consider worthless trash but the corniest of all to my notion is that ancient belief that "everything will turn out for the best if we stick around long enough."

More disease, disaster, crime and corruption have been committed under that alibi than under all other soothsayings.

Christ's philosophy was supreme in many ways but in no way did He excel his blasting of such blather.

Take the dark chaos of the middle ages with their superstitious belief that everything would work out for the best if you stuck around long enough. Of all the tommyrot, this heads the list.

Did yellow fever cure itself if you hung around sufficiently or said enough prayers? It did not and our most pious religionists now admit it. It was a great general and his heroic soldiers who licked that scourge and reclaimed the tainted swamps which caused the fever.

The same is true of diphtheria, smallpox and malaria. In each and every case science worked with the spirit to perform the healing miracle and God evidently expected man to grow wise enough to find the remedy.

The same truth lies behind every modern marvel. We no longer wait for miracles or shrink from horrors. Our wonders come from us and our horrors are the product of our own fear.

This notion that everything, including plague and war, is the will of God, is blasphemy of the lowest order. We hold within ourselves the power to heal or prevent such disasters and God must rejoice even more than we when we struggle to free ourselves from such evils.

We have no right to sit back and sigh piously, "It is God's will. We must resign ourselves to it."

There is no righteousness in such an attitude. Instead of blaming God for our misfortunes and weaknesses, it is up to us to get going and root out the causes. Only thus can we deserve to be called righteous.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Memory Turns to Past Idealistic Pacts

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Memories of many other peace pacts came back as I sat watching the foreign ministers sign the North Atlantic Pact. Vivid memories, youthful memories, poignant memories, filled with hopes for peace . . . The Kellogg Pact, the Washington Arms Treaty, the London Naval Conference. As a young newspaperman I attended them all, and with all of them hoped—as did the world—that with each signing a new ear of peace was ushered in.

Those were days when I was naive and optimistic. Perhaps America was the same way—at least regarding peace conferences. We were sure that the end of World War I meant the end of wars forever.

And every newspaper in the country heralded the Washington Arms Conference—first great disarmament conference as the beginning of a new era of peace.

* * *

First Arms Conference.

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES, bewhiskered, dignified, full of vigor and ideals, presided. Warren G. Harding in all his handsomeness opened the conference on Armistice day, 1921. Lord Balfour, the perfect English gentleman, charmed the crowds.

Aristide Briand, then in his prime, spoke so eloquently in French that the crowds, understanding not a single word, cheered him to the echo.

Just out of college, I persuaded Dick Slocum, now manager of the Philadelphia Bulletin, then editor of the Swarthmore college student weekly, to make me his official correspondent to cover the Arms Conference. Full of youthful ideals I went to Washington.

I didn't know what it was all about; but I have watched what happened since—watched what happened to the conference treaties signed with such acclaim, with such hope, such prayer for future peace.

The treaty to scrap battleships was faithfully carried out by us —and by the rest of the world, because the rest of the world had almost no battleships to scrap. But the rest of the world promptly began building cruisers.

The Nine-Power Pact guaranteeing the sovereignty of China was trampled into the dust of Manchuria by the Japs on Sept. 18, 1931 and has been laughed at by the Russians since. Henry L. Stimson strove valiantly to save it, but Europe didn't.

And the Four-Power Pact prohibiting naval bases on the islands of the Pacific was stealthily violated by the Japanese so that, came Pearl Harbor, we found Truk, Tarawa, Iwo Jima, Okinawa to be bastions of military strength.

So vanished the first peace dreams of the American people.

Then came the Kellogg Pact.

* * *

Dr. Benes Dreams.

IT WAS hot in the Salle de l'Horloge on the August day in 1928 when the world outlawed war. The sun spread its slanting rays over the Seine, penetrated the deep, curtained windows of the Quai d'Orsay and danced along the crystal candelabra of Louis XVI.

I can still remember how it even cast shadows around the cadaverous eyebrows and great drooping mustache of Aristide Briand, making him appear more the stage villain than Europe's foremost exponent of peace and co-author of the pact to outlaw war.

The sunlight glistened on the great gold pen held in the hand of Gustave Stresemann, foreign minister of Germany.

Eleven years later, his country was to plunge the world into the bloodiest war in history, but on that August day in 1928 he scratched his name on the ornate parchment pledging Germany to renounce war.

Across the table sat Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia. Benes is dead now, a broken-hearted hero who also dreamed of peace. And before he died he saw his nation ravaged first by Hitler's army, then squeezed under the Iron Curtain by the threat of the Red army. But all that he did not know when he signed the pact outlawing war on that sunshiny afternoon at the Quai d'Orsay.

On around the table went the parchment. It received the signature of Count Uchida, whose imperturbable face gave no hint that four years later he, as foreign minister of Japan, would be snapping his fingers at the treaty he had signed.

So the pen scratched on, affixing to the pact signatures of diplomats who may have had tongue in cheek, but which carried the hopes, the dreams of all the people.

* * *

King Almost Smiled.

THEN there was the London Naval Conference signed April 22, 1930, in the pleasant drawing room where Queen Anne once took tea and which was supposed to limit the weapons that the Washington Conference omitted— cruisers.

I remember so well the three King Georges looking down from their portraits at the American delegation. And it almost seemed that the radiance of the morning plus the optimism for peace induced George III to forget the scowl he usually had for rebellious Americans.

Not only the portrait of George III, but everyone else was in a happy mood, and M. Briand suggested to Senator Joe Robinson that now was the time for him to make his long-promised speech about the naval sacrifices of the soverign state of Arkansas.

Eight years before, Charles Evans Hughes, winding up the Washington Arms Conference, had said: "This treaty absolutely ends naval competition for all time."

At London on that balmy April morning, Ramsay MacDonald, prime minister of England, was more cautious. "This is just the end of the chapter," he said. "We are merely turning over a new leaf in naval negotiations."

But not even the cautious MacDonald realized that nine years later Europe would be convulsed in the throes of war again.

* * *

Will Pact Bring Peace?

SO, skeptic that I have come to be, I sat at the signing of the North Atlantic Pact wondering what was in store for the world, wondering what lay ahead whether this might be a step toward the millenium—or just another milestone along the stumbling path of man's folly.

I do not know the answer. But I do know that we have learned. We still have our ideals but they are more practical ideals. This North Atlantic Pact is a long, long way from the Washington Disarmament Conference of 27 years ago.

For, instead of disarming the world, we have signed an armed truce. Regretfully we are building up the armament of our new allies.

So, as one who sat through those other conferences, and cheered the moves for peace, the signing of the North Atlantic Pact is depressing, but necessary.

Certainly if Russia does not make war within the next six months in retaliation for the Pact, then we may be over the hump and gradually work our way toward a precarious, always expensive, but oh, so precious, peace.

Leave It to Carter!

By INEZ ROBB

FORT WORTH, Texas.—How rugged can you get, individualistically speaking?

The answer to that, a whole passel of people believe, is Amon Carter, "Mr. Fort Worth" himself in person.

Carter, the man who made Fort Worth what it is today and who is well satisfied with the end product, is a rugged individualist from way back.

When Carter settled in Fort Worth in 1905, his worldly goods consisted of a derby, a suit of sharp clothes and an imposing diamond ring of three and thirty-one thirty-seconds carats.

The derby, the suit and the ring represented his life savings. He didn't believe in stuffing the long green in socks or tea pots. Carter is probably the only man who ever parlayed a diamond ring into a newspaper, oil and real estate empire.

In his early days in Fort Worth as Carter struggled to get the Forth Worth Star and then the combined Star-Telegram on its collective feet, the diamond was in and out of hock with the regularity and speed of light.

That was a long time ago, financially speaking, for Carter has long since been able to stud with diamonds the pearl handled pistols he has been bestowing for years upon a stream of triple Grade A celebrities who flow through Fort Worth to sample Carter's prodigious hospitality.

A celebrity himself, Carter supplies other celebrities all over the world with a constant cascade of ten-gallon hats, pistols, smoked turkeys, ten-pound steaks, pink grapefruit by the case and paper-shelled pecans by the hundred-weight.

He Knows "Everybody".

CARTER strews western headgear around the globe as lesser men leave calling cards. Irish statesmen, English peers, French diplomats and Sally Rand have been hatted by Carter. The late President Roosevelt and the Duke of Windsor have peered out from under these behemoth brims.

In turn, Carter wears a Stork club tie, gift of Sherman Billingsley, with his hand-tailored tweeds as evidence of his own international stature. Now, at 69, Carter looks fifteen years younger and acts with the vigor and dynamism of a man half his years.

Carter knows everybody. Naturally, when he gets wind that this or that corporation is planning a new plant or expansion program in the southwest, he is able to call its directors, most of them personal friends, and wheedle, cajole or fast talk the group into building the new plant in Fort Worth.

The odds are never too great or the proposition too fantastic if Mr. Fort Worth thinks the project will boost Fort Worth. Since the twenties, Carter has been dedicating his bodacious energies to the construction of the Trinity River Improvement Association.

This is the herculean proposal to make a seaport out of Fort Worth, now 300 miles inland from the Gulf of Mexico!

Carter has long since worked out the miracle by which this transformation can be accomplished: Simply dredge out and widen the Trinity river, a stream on which Fort Worth is located.

A channel a mere 150 feet wide and 14 feet deep will turn the city into a sea port, even as Huston was turned into a seaport by a 50-mile channel, Carter says.

People used to laugh when the idea was mentioned. But not any more! More than $100,000,000 already has been spent on the project, and the Army engineering board has approved it.

"There is no question that the canal will eventually be in operation," Carter says, "it's just a matter of time."

Farmer's Diary

Viewing Spring Scene

By CALVIN A. BYERS

MY YOUNG apple trees have grown well this year. This evening I pruned the sharp crotches and lateral twigs to head them from growing too thick a top. On the hill north of the house was an interesting p e to work, pruning shears in hand.

From this higher ground, the evening sun shone bright. Honey creek flowed through the western valley, caught the reflection of the sun, and streaked the whole hillside with mirror-like plays of light.

Out of the greening clover meadow came the meadowlark's liquid note. A killdeer screamed and ran close to where I worked, feigning a broken wing. It hunted in and out among sharp-spined briers for a possible nest.

A car drove up on our barn bridge. Our daughter got out, with her baby in her arms. I yelled a greeting down and a tender infant hand waved to grandpa, by the help of its mother's guidance.

The trailer which was in process of being overhauled by the oldest boy, drew the interest of the efficient, redhaired son-in-law.

From the open kitchen window, I caught the savory odors of the evening meal in preparation. After supper I went back to work. All the boys went out to play a little ball. There was fast running just for the sportive joy of movement—the dull thud of a swift ball caught in the glove, the echo of the ball against the big barn gable.

stayed my very necessary work and stood to listen and watch in silence. Those shouts and beating feet upon the soft green grass were music to my ears. Virtually it was the first day fit for play.

The sky was deep rich blue and an early evening star twinkled like a metal ball. The golden glory of the day was waning. A wood thrush from the border of the woods began to speak a soft language to the drab young trees. I thought, nobody in all this valley could buy a moving jubilant spring scene like this. The hardy green between house and barn will be sacred to the memory of all the young boys of our pleasant home. I was happy.

The orchard, too will soon be an asset and a joy for its fruit. For what roots go deeper into the laboratory of the soil and mix sparkling juices out of the depths of our sandy hill? Trees and children belong together.

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

Is Truce With Soviet Russia Possible?

"IF RUSSIA doesn't like being out of the Atlantic Pact, why doesn't she try to get in?"

A student of foreign affairs wants me to give him an answer to that—a good question to ask but not an easy one to answer. I suppose he may have had in mind the statement in the Soviet memorandum last week that "of the great powers only the Soviet Union is excluded from among the parties to this treaty, which can be explained only by the fact that this treaty is directed against the Soviet Union."

Well, I think we must start from the premise that the pact is created specifically for defense against any communist aggression in Europe. In that sense the alliance may be said to be "directed against the Soviet Union," since the bolshevist world revolution for the spread of communism is controlled from Moscow.

This being the case I think we are safe in assuming that neither would Russia be welcomed in the Pact nor would she herself wish to join under conditions as they exist at this writing.

Britain's Winston Churchill made a statement apropos of this question in his Boston speech last week. He asked why the Russians have "deliberately acted so as to unite the free world against them," and then answered his own query thus:

"It is because they fear the friendship of the West more than its hostility. They cannot afford to allow free and friendly intercourse to grow up between the vast area they control and the civilization of the West. The Russian people must not see what goes on outside and the world must not see what goes on inside the Soviet domain."

However, while that's the way things now stand, it is within the range of possibility that there might be a sharp change in the position. Some western statesmen like British Foreign Secretary Bevin are said to incline to the view that once the Atlantic Pact becomes effective, Moscow may decide Russia's expansion in Europe has ended and the Kremlin may seek a truce.

I take it that this idea is purely speculative, but it doesn't seem to be too far-fetched. If Moscow should find herself up against a stone wall it wouldn't be horse-sense to keep butting her head against it.

Of course a truce isn't a peace treaty. It would just be a pause in an ideological revolution which will continue until it either wins out or blows up. Still, on the basis that part of a loaf is better than nothing, any sort of easement would be all to the good. And time moves fast.

What Some Other People Are Saying

COUNT CARLO SFORZA, Italian foreign minister: "Actually, the communists are afraid of their future."

* * *

GENERAL OMAR N. BRADLEY, Army chief of staff: "There is no accounting system that could compute our profit in the prevention of war. And if we fail to prevent it, our losses will be obscured in blood."

* * *

ATTORNEY GENERAL TOM CLARK: "The thing that worries me is that we do not seem to have a check on every person who comes into the United States. We don't know where they are."

Cowboy, Hindu Stop Runaway Elephant

GONZALES, TEX. — (AP) — A singing cowboy riding a stallion and a tiny Hindu mounted on the smallest elephant in captivity quieted an elephant herd stampeding across Texas hill country Tuesday.

The elephants stampeded while being filmed in a movie jungle scene.

It was like the old cattle stampedes—when a herd could be sent thundering by a few pistol shots. Pistol shots—blank ones—started the elephant scramble. The animals were part of a herd of 25 belonging to Daily Brothers circus, in winter quarters here.

Cowboys and handlers hazed the elephants past Jack Orr's newsreel camera once. Orr said the fake stampede was unrealistic.

Circus owner Ben Davenport told his cowboys to fire some blanks.

Dudley Autry, brother of screen cowboy Gene Autry, and Chuck Carson, Hollywood stunt man, obliged. Both are circus performers.

The elephants were frightened into a real stampede.

But not Autry and the little Hindu, Singh, from India.

"Singh found Butch—that's the smallest baby elephant in captivity—and hopped astraddle his neck. Butch, 2 ½ years old, and Singh managed to mill the baby elephants," Davenport said.

He explained the baby elephants could not keep up with their larger relatives.

Autry spurred to the head of the other running elephants. Shouting and waving his hat, he started the herd milling. Others joined him and kept the animals circling "just outside the city limits" of Gonzales, the circus owner said.

Orr had to run for safety but his camera, set automatically, photographed most of the stampede. It was finally buried by the charging beasts. But the film was uninjured.

Californian Builds Self A 'Shmoo-Car'

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — Emory Sanfield, 32, is used to having policemen flag him over to the curb.

But not for speeding or reckless driving. Invariably the officer gives out with the same question:

"What in the world is that contraption you're driving?"

It's a "shmoo," which the railroad clerk and backyard mechanic fashioned from a one-cylinder motor scooter engine and a P-38 belly tank. The car is registered as a motorcycle.

Sanfield, who finished his jalopy in two months at a cost of $400, has taken several trips to San Francisco and averages 57 miles to a gallon of gas. The car has one reverse and two forward gears and cruises up to 45 miles an hour.

Bill Giving Lausche Ouster Power Over Sheriffs Shelved

Committee Postpones Measure

'Padlock' Act Also Stymied

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche's plea for power to remove sheriffs failing to rid their counties of big-time gambling was on the legislative shelf today.

The Senate Judiciary committee voted 7-0 last night to postpone indefinitely a bill by Sen. William H. Daugherty (D-Columbiana) to grant that authority.

A Daugherty companion bill to permit padlocking of gambling places was sent to a three-member sub-committee for further consideration. That put the second anti-gambling measure asked by Lausche under a cloud. That vote also was 7-0.

The Buckeye State Sheriffs association led an intensely active campaign to hand cuff permission for gubernatorial removal. William McElroy, former Licking county sheriff and executive secretary of the association, said 63 sheriffs attended last night's committee meeting.

They all walked from the room as soon as the bill was locked up, leaving only a score of people present for hearings on other measures.

The governor in his Jan. 17 message to the General assebly asked the same removal power over sheriffs he now has over mayors derelict in duty.

Both sail and motor boats would be permitted under the requests made in the petition. Members of the association urged that council pass an ordinance making is a misdemeanor to violate any of the existing regulations which might be passed if the petition met with approval of the council.

The petition specifically asked that council enter into a contract with the State Conservation commission under which the waters would be opened to public fishing and that the commission would care for stocking and propagation of fish in the reservoir.

said he believed the resolution should be passed "so it could be placed on the record."

But still no councilman would second passage, and when Mayor Vaughn pointed out the resolution was inconsistent in that at one place it said "the city engineer," and at another "the sanitary engineer," the resolution was shelved.

"TOO INACTIVE"

Later in the session, Councilman Nelson Swihart took Kyle to task because the sewer committee, of which he is a member and Kyle is chairman, had not met "in more than a year."

"If we are going to have committees they should be active," Swihart said.

When a resolution for a trunkline sewer on Trimble road came up, Kyle, who introduced the resolution, said: "I withdraw this resolution and call a meeting of the sewer committee for 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Councilman Thomas Wright cast a dissenting vote that shelved an ordinance to appropriate $15,000 for payment of engineering costs and various other expenses connected with the construction of the dam at Clear Fork reservoir.

Councilman Kyle had objected to the ordinance because it did not list the amounts each item would cost. However, he voted "yes, with a protest," and Wright's vote shelved the ordinance.

Speed Sought In Legislature on Ashland Court Proposal

Senate Gets Duplicate of M'Clure Bill

First Measure Still In Committee

COLUMBUS — (INS) — An attempt to speed up the establishment of an Ashland municipal court was made in the Ohio Senate today by Sen. Ralph Winter (R-Lodi).

Winter introduced a bill which was an exact duplicate of the measure introduced by Rep. Frank McClure (R-Ashland) on Feb. 3, which since has been held in the house judiciary committee.

The Winter measure, introduced at McClure's request, will make it possible for both house and senate judiciary committees to conduct hearings at the same time.

The proposed court would have jurisdiction in the city of Ashland and in Montgomery, Clearcreek, Jackson, Mifflin, Milton, Mohican, Orange, Perry and Vermillion townships.

The municipal judge who would serve four years would be paid at least $600 by the county commissioners, $700 from the city of Ashland and $150 from each of the townships, guaranteeing him a minimum salary of $2,650. He would be permitted to practice law privately on all matters outside his own court.

Students to See Malabar Farm

A visit to Louis Bromfield's Malabar farm will be included in a three-day tour of points of interest in Eastern Ohio by a group of 40 students from Temple university.

The group, traveling by bus, will arrivev at New Philadelphia Sunday, and will tour the 14 lakes in the Muskingum conservancy district. They also will watch stripping operations at the Hanna Coal company strip mine near Cadiz and visit the U. S Soil Conseravtion project at Coshocton.

Case Goes to Jury

HILLSBORO — (AP) — A jury of seven men and five women was expected to begin deliberations late today in the first-degree murder trial of Mahlon Wisecup, 49, charged in the fatal shooting of 72-year-old Grant Nichols.

'Misunderstanding' Stalls Army Movie at Madison

Mansfield was going to have a free Army movie at the Madison theater next Wednesday.

But the movie has been called off because of what E. D. Dennis, manager of the theater, termed, "technicalities" with the movie projectionist union.

Army Day was yesterday and the movie in honor of the Army was to be given one week later.

Asa F. Esbenshade, business agent of the local movie operators' union, said cancellation of the free show in honor of the Army was due to a "misunderstanding."

Three veterans' organizations had raised the money to rent the theater. Sharing the $50 cost were the VFW, Albert I. Harrington Post No. 3494, the American Legion McVey Post No. 16, and the Amvets Robert Spreng Post No. 26.

Since Dennis was asking only $50 for the theater for the entire day, he said the theater would lose nearly $100 in operational expenses alone, plus the loss of the day's receipts from a commercial show.

No projectionist at the theater would have lost any pay due to the showing since they are on salary, Dennis said.

But because of the theater being rented to another organization, that organization (the Army Reserve group) would have had to deal with the union instead of the theater, Dennis declared.

Capt. R. M. Flynn, head of the Army Reserve unit in Mansfield, said plans were being made so that the film may still be shown at some other place.

Hanley to Head Drive

J. O. Hanley, member of the Mansfield YMCA's board of trustees, has been appointed chairman of the YMCA membership drive to be held in September, A. B. Grafton, president of the board, announced today.

Marshall Seybold will serve as co-chairman of the membership committee with Hanley.

Particular emphasis will be placed on the recruiting of boys who will meet in neighborhood groups, rather than at the YMCA building, Maurice W. Taylor, YMCA general secretary, said.

Included in this classification will be the YMCA Gra-Y and Indian Guide clubs for fourth, fifth, and sixth graders and for first, second and third graders, respectively.

Reason for the concerted effort on this type of boys' program is the present over-crowding of "Y" facilities and meeting away from the "Y" would leave space available for groups that have no other place to meet. Taylor said.

Concert Postponed

A concert featuring the ninth grade girls' and boys' choirs at John Simspon junior high school, originally scheduled for Friday night, has been postponed until Tuesday at 8:15 p. m.

Miss Fannie Lou Eiler, director of the girls' choir, said the postponement was made because of the death of Mrs. A. Lemoine Derr's father. Derr, vocal music supervisor of the Mansfield high schools, is in charge of the boys' choir.

The concert, to be held at John Simpson auditorium, will be open to the public. A 50-cent admission fee will go into the music fund at the school.

Miss Eiler said the concert will be the first given by students in which the scenery also has been made by students. Theme of the concert is "Far Away Places."

Boys and girls who did not have their kites finished in time to enter the first part of the contest still are eligible to compete in the latter part, the kite judges said today.

Co-sponsored by the YMCA and the Mansfield recreation department, the kite festival was continued by the judges, Stanley Kamen of the recreation department, John W. Fike of the "Y," and Chief Judge Ralph Juniper, mathematics teacher at Senior high school.

Application blanks are available at the schools, the recreation department at 14½ West Fourth street, and at the "Y."

Greeks Use Martial Law In Strike Row

ATHENS — (INS) — The harassed Greek government — battling new communist attacks in the field — today clamped martial law on striking civil servants.

At least 20 strike leaders were reported arrested in the second day of the walkouts, eleven government ministries and all Athens schools were shut down by the strike.

2 Drivers Arrested

Accidents Result In Police Action

Two Mansfielders were arrested last night by police following traffic accidents on Bowman street.

Mrs. Rose Etta Evans, 35, of 377 West Fifth street, arrested for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler today. Hearing of the case was continued to tomorrow at 9:30 a. m.

Police said Mrs. Evans' auto sideswiped a Commercial Motor Freight truck, driven by Dale C. Algire, 28, of Lexington, R. D. 1, at 8:40 p. m. Officers said the accident occurred on Bowman street at the Baltimore and Ohio railroad crossing. Algire told officers he saw Mrs. Evans' car coming at him and that he turned his truck into the curb as far as possible to avoid a head-on collision. Both vehicles were damaged.

Allen L. Clifton, 97 Hedges street, was charged with unsafe operation last night after his car was involved in an accident at Bowman and West Fourth streets. Police said Clifton's car collided with a car driven by Randolph H. McGregor, 205 South Franklin avenue at 7:40 p. m.

City to Pay 30 Old Bills

Payment of 30 bills acquired in 1948 for a total of $6,617, out of 1949 appropriations, was authorized by city council last night.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn told council it was an annual procedure to pay bills that accumulate during the final month of the year from the next year's appropriation.

The bills were for various items purchased by the city and each item was listed on the ordinance.

Authorization was granted to the safety-service director to purchase fire and extended coverage insurance necessary on city property, excluding vehicular equipment, at a total premium cost of approximately $1,500.

The appraised valuation of the city property was listed at $174,000.

Others down included U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case and American Telephone.

Chest X-Rays Sought For County's Food Handlers

A concentrated drive to have employes of all Richland county food dispensing establishments submit to free chest x-rays is being conducted by the county health department.

All restaurant owners and managers in Richland county have been notified that this action should be taken to aid in the control of tuberculosis.

Meanwhile Health department authorities today urged every adult in Richland county to take advantage of the free chest x-rays being offered at six different locations April 11 to 16.

The mobile x-ray unit will be at the locations on given days from 8:30 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 5 p. m.

In past years one and a half per cent of the adults x-rayed had some significant tuberculosis, Dr. Harry Wain, Richland county health commissioner said.

The mobile unit, and a follow up x-ray with a regular size machine in cases where some sign of tuberculosis is discovered, is made available to residents of Richland county from funds donated in the annual Christmas Seal campaign.

The mobile unit takes a miniature picture which is magnified and read by a chest specialist, Dr. Wain, said.

Persons receiving an x-ray are then notified by health department of the results of the reading.

X-raying of a large number of apparently healthy adults is important in controling tuberculosis because it discovers the hidden and unknown cases that exist in the community, Dr. Wain said.

These cases present the greatest danger to the community because they are the carriers that spread the disease to others.

The schedule for the mobile unit follows: Monday, April 11, at Ohio Seamless Tube company, Shelby; Tuesday, April 12, at Shelby Air depot; Wednesday, April 13, at Shelby High school; Thursday, at Moorhead's garage, Mansfield; Friday, April 15, at Humphryes Mfg. and Barnes Mfg., Mansfield; Saturday, April 16, at Moorhead's garage.

Addition of Units In Doubt

The Ohio Fuel Gas company, which services Mansfield, told the state utilities commission in Columbus Tuesday that it is unable to say now whether it could serve additional space heating customers in the coming months.

Chief Engineer W. C. Shinholzer said the company was awaiting a construction and delivery schedule from Tennessee Gas Transmission company.

He said the company had on hand of March 31, applications for service to 14,812 new space heating units in residences, and 1,090 in commercial establishments. The company has not acted on any of these applications, he said.

'Arbor Day' Subject of Program Given Sorosis

SIXTEEN MEMBERS attended the Mansfield Sorosis meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Women's club when Mrs. Milo Hieber served as hostess.

Mrs. George Hout was elected president for the coming year. The other officers who will serve with her are Mrs. L. B. Bourns, vice president; Mrs. E. D. Gibson, secretary; Mrs. L. D. Bower, treasurer, and Mrs. Ambrose Middleton, historian.

Mrs. Middleton gave a report of the conference for Ohio club women held at Ohio State university, Columbus recently. She told the members that the affair was invitational to all clubs. Richland county was rated high in the educational field because of the deaf school, croppled school, opportunity school and sight conservation school located in Mansfield.

Mrs. Bower read the paper on "Arbor Day." She stated that Arbor Day means tree planting, and it is one of the oldest customs in America. It was first started in Nebraska in 1872 and in Ohio in 1882.

Mrs. W. Frank Wilson told of the interesting trees of Mansfield and Ohio. In her paper she mentioned the different, unusual and old trees of Mansfield. The developement of central park was reviewed.

Mrs. Middleton told the story of women's sufferage written by Mrs. Florence Allen of Cleveland. "Dream of the Desert" is the title of Mrs. Allen's original story.

On April 19 the members will have a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Women's club with Mrs. H L. Creveling as hostess.

The hostesses presented Miss Ferrone with a white rug. She was presented her other gifts from a table covered with white On the cloth was written "Here Comes the Bride." A large pastel bow was attached to the ceiling with yellow and green streamers extending to each corner of the room.

Refreshments were served at a late hour at a table decorated with yellow daffodils and white candles.

Ring Settings Get New Look

Jewelry craftsmen employing palladium, a precious white metal 100 times rarer than gold, have developed a "New Look" in engagement ring settings. Their latest creation, called "Masterpiece," is causing mothers to cast envious eyes when they see what fiances are presenting to their newly betrothed daughters

While skirts go up again, so go the diamonds in these new style settings. Elevated palladium prongs hold the diamond securely above a reflector of the same precious metal that is shaped to represent a four-petaled flower These cupshaped petals reflect a much greater amount of light into the stone than is the case of the conventional reflector. The brilliance of the stone is thus enhanced, with a corresponding increase in the illusion that the diamond is larger than it really is.

These new palladium settings are designed to hold diamonds from three through 50 points of a carat. (A carat is the accepted standard of weight for a diamond. A stone described as 1.00 ct means it is a full carat; .50 ct is half a carat, and so on) Most popular and distinctive use will be as the central part of a solitaire mounting.

Joint Meeting Held at Home Of Mrs. Cairns

The Golden Rule Bible class and the Pastor's Aid society, of St Mark's Lutheran church, met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs R. V. Cairns, 168 Western avenue.

The associate hostesses were Mrs J E Wolfgang of the Golden Rule class, Mrs. Charlotte Wentz and Mrs Mary Eyerle of the Pastor's Aid society. There were 17 members and three guests. Mrs. Lula Miller, Mrs. Harold Garrison and little Ellen Ann Garrison, present.

A luncheon was served after the meeting. A combined meeting will be held again May 10. The hostesses will be Mrs. Howard Lucas, Mrs. L. W. Shoup and Mrs. Charles Cline. A meeting place will be announced.

Besides being a precious metal palladium is defined in the dictionary as "safeguard." That is one reason why this rare metal is in such high demand for wedding rings today by brides who want their marriages safeguarded.

Honoree Not Surprised

ASHLAND — When a group of friends staged a birthday surprise party Thursday for Mrs. Bernard Hughey of Banning avenue, the friends were considerably more surprised than Mrs. Hughey.

Mrs. Hughey wasn't at home. Laden with gifts, cake and other refreshments, the guests learned too late that Mrs. Hughey was doing substitute teaching at the high school for the day.

Undaunted, the women went on to the home of one of their group, Mrs. Raymond Sloan, and held their party with the honored guest unaware of the event.

When Mrs. Hughey returned home she found the gifts and some of the refreshments piled on her doorstep Then was the time she was surprised

Indian Urges Greater Race Cooperation

Optimists Hear UNESCO Delegate

Nilkanth Chavre, diplomat and statesman from India, called for more international understanding between nations and races at the Mansfield Optimist club meeting yesterday.

Chavre, India's representative on the United Nations Economic, Scientific and Cultural organization, declared there can be no complete understanding between nations as long as these same nations segregate races in their own country.

Pointing out England's constant crusade for peace, Chavre asked how she expected to accomplish it if she continued to differentiate nationalities as was the practice in Palestine.

When England was in control of Palestine, railroad coaches were strictly labeled for "Jews," "Arabs," and "Europeans," Chavre said.

He also pointed out the separation of Negroes and "whites" in the southern part of our own country.

"There should be no fear of India being influenced by communistic Russia," Chavre said, in reassuring the Optimists that India's new-found independence would not be dominated by its northern Asiatic neighbor.

"Indians love God, their family, and the right of owning personal property, and there is no provision for these in the communist doctrine," the Indian declared.

Chavre explained the Indians do have a God, as Christians do, but Christ is considered as another prophet along with Mohammed and Buddha.

Recollecting his difficulties in learning the English language, the UNESCO representative brought bursts of laughter from the Optimists when he told of a fellow student who was taught the word "hide" meant the same as "skin," but had fumbled "hide" once and always used "skin."

Once when singing the hymn "Hide Me, Oh Lord," the English student came out with, "Skin me, oh Lord; skin me."

Garbage Bill Passes

It is now a misdemeanor to dump refuse along a public highway in Ohio, under a law passed by the state senate yesterday. The measure had previously passed the house.

The new law provides fines of not more than $50 or 30 days in jail or both.

The bill gives "teeth" to local measures to combat the disposing of garbage and refuse along highways and on farmers' property.

Violators in this area have been prosecuted under a sanitary regulations of the Richland County General Health district. This regulation does not provide protection from dumping of trash, rubbish, cans and bottles along roads.

The bill just passed calls for enacting two sections of the general code which were repealed some time ago. One of the sections says that a person disposing of garbage, waste, rubbish, and ashes, cans, bottles, oil, or anything of an unsightly and unsanitary nature on or near a public road or ditch shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Another section, re-enacted under the new law, says that anyone transporting refuse or garbage shall do so in such a manner that none of it will fall along the thoroughfare.

High-fashion news for the business girl this summer is the bareback sundress, expecially when it has a small, close-fitting jacket for city wear. And this season stresses the importance of mauve for city-and-resort cottons. All three of these fashion fundamentals are combined in a mauve sundress with a short-sleeved jacket, featured in the April issue of CHARM, the Magazine for the Business Girl.

Horoscope

For Friday, April 8
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

A DAY of intensive and intense action is forecast, with dynamic and profound situations and problems, their deepest fastnesses plumbed in the hidden and obscure, inexplicable rising to a dramatic crescendo in which direct and potent operations may combine to a spectacular, sensational, perhaps in sudden precipitation into the public eye. Sharply contradictory and conflicting forces are at work, with objective and forthright crises, incited and inspired by undertones of the mysterious, eccentric, peculiar and intangible. Handled with discretion honestly and bravely, unexpected denouement may materialize, with unpredictable progress and prosperity.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of excitement, conflict, contradictions and high potential in the realm of new projects, propositions and performance, affecting the life profoundly: "to the quick," in business, reputation, honors and accomplishment, affecting private, public and intellectual life shaping the career brilliantly, fundamentally and objectively. There are pitfalls, mysterious and subtle, in which intrigue and sinister currents rise to heights of renown and distinction. Sagacious and practical performance climax deeply inspired or fostered currents of emotional or spiritual values.

A child born on this day is spectacularly endowed with versatility, power, accomplishments, transcendant talents rising to sensational achievements and honors in life.

U. S. Army Parades, Italian Generals 'Kidnaped,' Cheered

TRIESTE — (UP) — The U. S. Army Day parade here turned into a wild pro-Italian demonstration when 5,000 cheering citizens seized three Italian generals and carried them off on their shoulders.

More than 30,000 persons jammed the waterfront and adjacent streets to watch the biggest U. S. army parade ever staged in this strategic and disputed port city. They pelted the marchers with flowers.

Once during the parade a goup of singing Italians tangled with a communist strong-arm squad outside communist party headquarters, but that was the only outbreak.

Walter Winchell

Writer Traces Three Decades of Humor and Tragedy On U. S. Scene

The Twenties opened with every joke-writer making almost as good a living out of Prohibition jokes as bootleggers mined in the Silliest Amendment. 1921 fetched the flapper, and the mouthings of the fresh young thing assailed you from the mags and the vaude stages.

The Prince of Wales acted like a real prince all during 1923, obliging with a fall off his horse on a dull day to land right into some sweating gagwriter's copy.

Harding took the big portfolio in 1924, and Florida began selling land by the Karat. You could build a whole comedy that year around a joke about the capitalist who owned a flower pot in Palm Beach.

Two years later they were laughing at the people who believed it.

Cal Coolidge, who occasionally spoke up notwithstanding all reports, muttered in 1927 that "I do not choose to run" and lifted mortgages for a mob of grateful jokesters.

In 1928, the last year the American people used their pockets, the Chicago mobsters fed the humorists by shooting pedestrians just to sharpen up their marksmanship.

The laughter got good and gruesome in 1929, with all the punch lines dealing with the Wall Street crash. The popular type of yock dealt with the market victims who were suiciding from high places.

Pres. Hoover's party-plug about "two cars in every garage" came back to haunt him all during 1932 in the form of belly-laughs. And we were all so carefree in 1933 that we saw a hilarious situation in the bank failures.

Two sleepers, Maine and Vermont, were the comic inspiration of 1936. These two states were the complete catch of an amiable Kansan named Alf Landon, who had been kidded into pacing a walkaway for FDR.

You could wow the party by reporting that there's never been a poorer year for wags than 1940. Things were so tough then that the pert paragraphers and radio authors were having fun with Europe's phony war. My, they were sarcastic!

It was a one-joke year in 1945. Somebody found out Harry Truman played the piano, with a real flair for "The Missouri Waltz." Never have so many bored so many with so small a discovery. Three years later President Truman proved himself a virtuoso on another instrument by blowing his own horn.

Bradley Hails New Army Where Men Stand In Line to Enlist

The tall gaunt man said America today has the finest Army in its peacetime history.

And there were 38 years in his service record and five rows of ribbons across his chest—battle-star-studded ribbons—to back his judgment.

"The average capacity of our soldiers today is much above that of 20 or 30 years ago," said Omar Nelson Bradley.

As chief-of-staff he is proud of the fact that a man no longer can just wade into his outfit—he has to have what the army wants. You have to stand in line now to enlist.

"In the morale and training of our troops, we've never been better off in peacetime," he said.

"Re-enlistments have jumped in the last year from 4 per cent to 48 per cent. We are overstrength. We've had to put on restrictions. If a man hasn't become a PFC after two years, he can't enlist again.

"We don't want professional privates. We want men capable of going higher."

I talked to the general as he waited in his hotel room before he went out to pitch the hottest ball in the current international crisis.

He was to pitch that ball in a speech to the Jewish War Veterans convention. The ball bore this appeal:

"Give American military supplies to back up the Atlantic Pact."

And he pitched it with this hope—that his country, which had gone into two world wars unprepared, might prevent a possible third world war. He thought it could do so by being prepared itself, and by furnishing muscle to its allies.

It was no accident that Bradley, at the invitation of the State department, was picked to do the pitching.

To many men in Congress, to millions of Europeans liberated by his armies, he is a man of weighed words and honest judgment — seeking peace. There is faith behind him. And much experience.

His formula: If you keep a friend strong on his feet, the potential enemy will hesitate to try to knock him down and turn on you. How to keep a friend self-confident? Give him the weapons he needs to feel secure.

I asked the general a question that had been in my mind for years:

"What was the biggest single defect of the American soldier in the last war?"

"I think," said Bradley, "it was the inability of many soldiers to regard the war as anything but a magnified athletic contest. I think they often unconsciously thought of it in terms of a sporting event."

When the American soldier lost the illusion that war was a strange new game, Bradley said, he rose to anger—and victory.

11 Drivers Fined $83 In City Court

Eleven persons appeared in traffic court yesterday and were fined a total of $83 and costs for seven traffic violations. One case was dismissed by Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler.

Thomas Fitzpatrick, 298 West Fifth street, pleaded guilty to a charge of unsafe operation of his car and was fined $15 and costs. His driving rights were suspended for 30 days.

Running their automobiles over a fire hose cost two Mansfield men $1 and costs when they admitted the charge. They were Virgil F. Baker, 190 Sycamore street, and William C. Horn, 97 Marion avenue.

Entering pleas of guilty to speeding charges were Gerald W. Keller, 25 East Raleigh avenue, and Oscar W. Miller, Akron. They were fined $10 and costs each.

Alma H. Green, 258 Wood street, and Charles Ward, 114 Touby court, were both found guilty of disregarding a traffic signal and were fined $10 and costs each. Ward was fined an additional $5 and costs when he admitted he did not have a driver's license.

For permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car, Norman Cloes, 16 Chilton avenue, was fined $5 and costs.

J. A. Tyree, 63 Raleigh avenue, was fined $6 and court costs on six separate parking violations, approximately double the amount it would have cost him if he had paid the tickets when they were issued to him.

Herbert G. Fraley, Mansfield R. D. 1, pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way and was fined $10 and costs.

The charge of disregarding a traffic signal filed against Joseph Langley, 11 East Fifth street, was dismissed. Hearing for Robert McDaniel, 221 Miller street, charged with illegal backing of his car, was continued to April 22.

Files False Arrest Suit

Mansfielder Asks $5,500 Damages

Claiming that two Mansfielders falsely accused him of assault and battery, resulting in his arrest, Anthony Pignatelli, of 224 West Third, filed suit for $5,500 against them in common pleas court yesterday.

Named defendants were James S. Petroff and George S. Petroff, both of 64 Harker street.

Pignatelli said the two falsely accused him of assault and battery against them in the Blue Goose tavern on Feb. 28. He was arrested and held in city jail for several hours.

At the hearing in Municipal court on March 24 Pignatelli adds, he was acquitted on a motion of his attorney for dismissal of the alleged charge. His petition was filed by Attorney R. J. Brown.

Before the arrest, Pignatelli said, he was known to the defendants and the general public to be of good reputation.

He contends he suffered humiliation, indignities, mental anguish and injury to his reputation.

U. S. Must Cut Frills

Thrift Gone, British Now Face Decline

By KEN WOODMAN

There is no hope for the future of Great Britain under the Labor government and the British cannot now turn from socialism because all incentive to thrift has been destroyed. . . .

That is the observation of Russell Weisman, professor of economics at Western Reserve university and chief editorial writer of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Weisman, who has just returned from a trip abroad, spoke last night to the officers, directors, and advisory board of the Farmers Savings and Trust company at a dinner in the club room of the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

He said conditions in France, Italy, and Scandinavia are much better than in England and that the British can now look forward only to slipping further from their former greatness to a much lower standard of living.

Weisman added this comment to a careful analysis of the present economic situation in the United States.

"We have just been through a violent inflation, similar to that which followed the War of 1812, the Civil war, and World War I, during which the public debt was increased 250 billion dollars," he said.

"Prices rose 150 per cent after the last war," he explained, "and the leveling off started in 1948 but the promise of President Truman to spend a great deal on armaments and the voting of $5 billion for European aid delayed the downward trend until the first quarter of this year.

"Government spending cannot now materially alter the course of economic events because military spending is by its very nature a long-term process. It would be 1950 before much of the money could actually be spent.

"And the two, three, or five billions which the government might spend will be taken away from us as taxpayers and we will be deprived of spending it."

The economic outlook for the remainder of 1949 depends on industrial and private spending, Weisman said.

Industry has cut its spending sharply in the first quarter of this year and will continue to do so unless assured that it will not have to bear an increased burden of corporate taxes, Weisman added.

By the end of 1948 most individuals had satisfied their pent-up war time demand for goods and had lived beyond their incomes to the extent that many had to borrow money for taxes. Now they must live within their incomes, he asserted.

"Business costs are still at an all time high. They must be reduced so goods can be offered to customers at prices they can pay. But reducing wages is not the right way to cut costs. Both labor and management must produce more and eliminate the frills."

Weisman concluded that we are on verge of a violent break in basic commodity prices because the government has stockpiled these commodities at falsely high prices. "The administration is trying to cure with salve an ailment that requires a major surgical operation," he said.

Paul M. Eliot, president of the Farmers bank, was host at the dinner and presented a condensed statement showing that the bank's balance sheet had grown from $2,800,000 in 1939 to $13,700,000 at present.

WORLD EXHIBIT —

Pupils in Mansfield's public schools have branched out considerably from the simple study of the "three R's" formerly considered the basis of most education. Evidence of their more widespread knowledge and activities is an international display at the Mansfield Public Library. The display was made by pupils of Mrs. Leonard Hutzelman at Bowman school. It includes plywood paper, and cardboard models of animals, people, and buildings found in various countries. Represented are Japan, China, India, the Philippine Islands, Holland, and Africa.

10,000 Visit Madison Store

An estimated 10,000 persons visited the new Madison store during its official opening yesterday.

According to Frank Britt, manager, a steady stream of visitors crowded the store from 10:30 a. m. until the closing hour of 9 p. m.

The store's supply of 8,000 gardenias was exhausted by early evening, and visitors who came later were given roses and carnations.

The store will be open daily from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., starting today.

Asks Permission To Sell House

Property Owners to Share Cost

City Will Pay More Than Half

Resolutions for resurfacing sections of six city streets at an estimated cost of $67,400 were approved by city council last night.

The improvements will cost the city an estimated $33,782 and the property owners on these streets an additional $33,618.

Cost of five of the projects will be divided equally between the city and the property owners, with the city assuming the cost at intersections and alleys. Property owners' share will be assessed on a footage basis.

Included will be the resurfacing of Bowman street from West Fifth to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and from the Erie railroad to Springmill street. It will cost the city $6,000 and the property owners $5,300. Assessments will be levied in three annual installments.

South Adams street, from East First street to Diamond street will be resurfaced. City's share of the cost will be $8,400 and the property owners' share $6,000 assessed in three annual installments.

PAYS FOR INTERSECTIONS

The city will assume only the costs at intersections and two per cent of the remaining costs for the paving of Shady Lane from Park avenue west to the south end of the street. It will cost property owners $6,700 assessed in three installments.

State street will be resurfaced at a cost to the city of $2,382 and to the property owners of $2,218 in three annual installments.

Council approved resurfacing Taylor road from Arlington avenue to Millsboro road. This project will cost the city $4,200 and property owners the same amount.

The largest of the projects, the resurfacing of West Sixth street from Mulberry to Sycamore street, will cost the city $13,200 and property owners $9,200 which will be assessed in three annual installments.

Council also approved an ordinance authorizing the safety-service director to purchase 13,000 feet of lumber for the repair of the bridge at Williams avenue and Newman street.

Two thousand dollars was appropriated to purchase the lumber.

School Adds To Concert

Some unusual features have been planned for the annual music festival in Madison Senior high school auditorium Friday at 8 p. m., according to Miss Dorothy Whitworth, music teacher of the school.

A "swing" ensemble will play music arranged and directed by Don Morris, a Madison high senior who is a member of the football squad. A new arrangement of "Three Blind Mice," by Robert Russell Bennett, just off the press, will be sung by the choir, and selections from "Porgy and Bess," by George Gershwin, with students in costume will be sung by the prize-winning boys' ensemble.

The program begins with a short concert by the 50-piece school band, including several favorites, such as "Finlandia," "National Emblem" and Sousa's "Semper Fidelis."

A colorful Indian scene with clarinet and flute accompaniment will include solos and ensemble singing. Some of Victor Herbert's familiar tunes will round out the program, according to Miss Whitworth.

Tickets still may be obtained at the school box office.

Dispute On 'Time-Killing' Flares In Senate Session

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The time-killing Senate took some time out yesterday for a partisan quarrel over time-killing.

The chamber has been laboriously debating the Marshall Plan renewal bill for 11 days while important legislation piles up in committees.

Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas scolded his colleagues for moving at "horse and buggy speed." He has threatened them with more night meetings and perhaps a summer-long session if they don't do better.

Sen. Wayne L. Morse, R Ore., retorted with a lecture on how to deal with senatorial "prima donnas." He told Lucas to quit "cracking the whip."

"We're not going to be treated as kindergarten kids in the Senate," Morse said. He added that some Senators are "prima donnas enough" that they won't stand being told they will be "taken to the woodshed."

Lucas said Morse was admitting he was a prima donna and the Oregonian replied:

"There are 95 others who ought to make the same admission."

What particularly infuriated Lucas, who is responsible for getting action on President Truman's legislative program, was Republican refusal to permit any senators to absent themselves from the Marshall Plan debate to attend to committee business.

After 75 minutes of such wrangling the Senate got back to work on a pile of amendments proposed to the $5,580,000,000 European recovery bill. It killed one by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D., Ark., to provide economic incentive for formation of European economic cooperation plans.

Reds Impose Blackout On China News

Only Remaining Link Is Radio

SHANGHAI — (AP) — The silence that has settled over communist China is broken now only by the Red radio.

The silence came when all foreign correspondents in Peiping were ordered to cease gathering and sending out news.

Chinese correspondents of newspapers in nationalist China quietly ceased functioning in communist areas.

Recently, the communist radio has been publishing accounts of what it says goes on in that area. Previously it had devoted itself largely to attacks on nationalist leaders and "American imperialism."

For instance, the radio announced the resumption of mail service between the communist north and the nationalist south.

It listed what could be mailed —newspapers, printed matter, commercial leaflets, samples of goods, business contracts and parcels. There was no mention of personal letters. The Reds set postal rates.

Another broadcast says money soon can be transmitted.

Another piece of news to listeners in the south is what is happening to the nationalist armies that surrendered at Peiping.

Some are joining the Red army. But the communist broadcasts say at least 21,000 of them have registered to be returned to their homes. Thirty-eight per cent live in nationalist areas and will be permitted to go home.

There are all sorts of radio reports on industrial revival and the repair of war-damaged communications and power lines. One broadcast said a factory in Tsinan, communist-occupied capital of Shantung province, had increased production 35 per cent.

There is, of course, no way of confirming these stories. Independent reporting is banned.

Egg Price Up, Beef Down

Food Prices Irregular for Past Week

(By Associated Press)

Retail food prices followed an irregular pattern this week.

A few beef cuts were down slightly from last week. Veal and pork prices were a little firmer. Hams were unchanged to up 4 cents a pound across the country. And lamb remained high as the scarcity continued.

Grade "A" eggs were up one to two cents a dozen in many places and the wholesale market was firm as dealers stocked up for the Easter bunny. Retail butter held unchanged. And most vegetables, with the exception of lettuce and carrots, were a shade lower.

Few of the meat price changes averaged more than two cents a pound and were attributed to local supply conditions. Lamb was the only item in short supply generally. Meat buyers said it was so limited even the strong prices which has developed during the past two or three weeks probably would fail to bring reductions this month.

A spokesman for the A and P Food store chain said hams would be in plentiful supply for Easter menus.

Average monthly assistance payments to aged Nebraskan pensioners increased from $13.60 in 1936 to $44.49 in late 1948.

Bares Spy Activities

OTTAWA — (UP) — Dr. M. M. Krieger, a Los Angeles optometrist, said under oath yesterday that he acted with the Soviet embassy in Washington to spy on the United States' war effort.

Krieger testified as a surprise witness against Sam Carr, alleged chief of a Soviet espionage conspiracy in Canada. Carr, is charged with conspiring to obtain a forged passport which later was used by Ignacy Witczak, international spy suspect.

Kreiger said he did spy work for the Russian embassy until 1943.

U. S. Officials Visit Two GI's Sentenced As 'Spies'

PRAGUE — (UP) — U. S. Ambassador Joseph T. Jacobs said yesterday that embassy officials who visited two American soldiers imprisoned by the Czechs as spies found "nothing to indicate they had engaged in any crime of espionage."

The embassy asked the Czech foreign office for more information on the case in the light of the talks with the soldiers.

Two embassy officials were permitted to visit the men for the first time Tuesday. The visit was to the Bory prison on the outskirst of Pilsen, where the soldiers are held.

The soldiers are George R. Jones of Owensboro, Ky., and Clarence Hill of Jackson, Miss., both U. S. army recruits. They were sentenced March 26 after a secret trial to 10 and 12 years imprisonment respectively.

Their visitors were Capt. Donald G. McNarmara of the military attaches office here and consul Carroll Perry.

The soldiers were found "in good health and good spirits, considering their situation," Jacobs said. They wore coarse brown Czech prison uniforms.

'Wish Book' Causes Stir

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An American mail order catalog touched off a lot of excitement in the capital of communist-run Yugoslavia recently. Everybody, it seemed, wanted to order something from it.

The story came out today when the House Appropriations committee made public testimony on a bill to supply money for State department operations.

The catalog was put on the table of the American information library in Belgrade. A report from the U. S. Embassy there added:

"Before 10 days had gone by people were forming lines going around the block, waiting to see this catalog. It upset the whole operations of the library."

Dollar drafts up to $6 each were legal and the bank was swamped with applications of people who wanted to put in orders. The bank finally banned the drafts.

DETROIT — (UP) — Records and documents of the federal government would fill an area equal to six Pentagon buildings, Dr. James K. Pollock, a member of the Hoover Commission, said in a speech here. Pollock said the records total 18,500,000,000 cubic feet and cost the government $1,200,000,000 annually to maintain.

South Gets Ready For Coal Fight

Operators Open Contract Move

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Southern coal operators got the jump on John L. Lewis this week and started preparations for the annual coal contract negotiations without waiting for the "go" sign from the veteran union leader.

The existing bituminous wage agreement does not expire until June 30 and Lewis has not announced his 1949 demands. But the "south" is losing no time in getting ready for the battle.

A 14-man policy committee of Ke: Southern mine owners held its first meeting in Washington today to begin drafting proposals that the operators would like to have in any new contract with the United Mine Workers.

The group was set up by the board of directors of the Southern Coal Producers association—long time bitter foe of the hard-bargaining Lewis—at a session Monday.

Joseph E. Moody, association president, indicated a two-fold job for the policy group which represents all 14 mining districts in the southern coal field. The committee's task is:

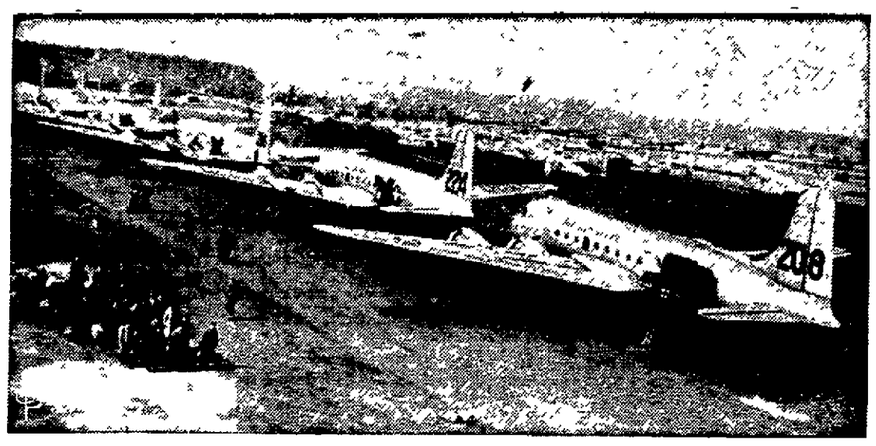
1. To work out a program on various points covered by the soft coal wage contract.

2. To confer with other sections of the coal industry—northern and western producers—and decide whether a common ground can be found for joint negotiations with the UMW this year.

Moody said the southern association hopes to have its program ready by the time Lewis meets later this month—probably just after Easter—with the 250-man UMW policy committee to prepare the union's strategy.

There have been advance hints that the UMW chief will hit the operators this year for an increase in their present 20 cents a ton ante to the union welfare fund and a shorter work schedule

The UMW is believed likely to meet falling coal production and unemployment by requesting a six-hour day and 30-hour week in place of the present eight-hour day and 40-hour week Lewis probably will want the shorter schedule with no cut in the miners pay.



AERIAL 'MUSCLES'—Aerial freighters of the British and American air forces make an impressive sight lined up on the Gatow airport in Berlin, an airlift terminal. American planes, C-47s and C-54s, are in the nearest row and British Yorks and Lancasters in the background. The people next to the runway are refugees preparing to board planes for the western Allied zones of Germany.

Young War Vet Takes Over 'Hottest' Police Chief's Job

EVARTS, Ky. — (INS) — A 25-year-old hometown youth became the sixth police chief to serve in the eastern Kentucky mining town of Evarts within an eight-month period.

The new peace officer, Bobby McLain, is a married war veteran and the son of Evarts councilman W. O. McLain.

McLain was chosen from a host of some 250 applicants who sought the job from as far distant points as Scotland after the widespread publicity given the town when its last police chief was sentenced to a 10-year prison term on manslaughter charges.

The previous chief, Isachar Combs, 28, and his 32-year-old assistant Lewis Deaton, each drew 10-year terms in connection with the shooting of restaurant operator Bryan Middleton in a gun battle that resulted when the chief attempted to serve a warrant on him.

Four other chiefs also have served in the tiny mining community since August, 1948, one resigned after bullets were fired into his automobile and another was shot to death. A third went back to driving a cab because he didn't "want to get shot to death," and the fourth was removed from office for drunken conduct.

Barker's recent 67-foot long shot rates as one of the top efforts of the sport. . . . Their numbers will hang in the new $4,000,000 field house. . . . The lads made a lot of money for the new plant but they'll never play in it. . . . And now Coach Adolph Rupp, the man in the brown suit, says he may retire with his boys. . . . He says, "I've thought it might be nice to retire my number, too, come June. I don't know just what I will do. After being at the top for so long, anything that I do from now on will be an anti-climax." . . . Rupp shed 24 pounds in the last month of the season. . . . He says he won't turn pro and Kentucky will be his last coaching assignment.

SOME SCHOOLS talk of one-hundred per cent participation in athletics but at Damar, Kansas it is a fact. . . . Last year, there were 23 students in the Damar high school and all reported for football, basketball and baseball. . . . Junior Church 5's To End Basketball Campaign Friday

Mansfield's last organized basketball game of the season will be played on the YMCA court at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow when the Junior Church league decides its 1948-49 champion.

Set to battle it out for the crown are St. John's, the first half winner, and First Christian, second half king.

The two teams met only Tuesday with First Christian winning, 37-36, to break a tie for the second half bunting. Jim Reiner led the First Christian team to that victory with 16 points while Bob Hartnett helped out considerably with four long shots which travelled over half the length of the court.

There will be no preliminary.

Eliminators Win 3rd Girls' Game

The Eliminators scored their third straight victory in the Girls' Basketball league at Johnny Appleseed last night by edging the Independents, 44-39, in a wild scoring game. The Independents led at the half, 22-15.

In other games, the Rams scored their first win over the Eagles, 26-21, and the Gripers won their third over the Zipperettes, 16-13.

Bob Feller Named to Halt Losses

FT. WORTH, Tex.—(INS) The Cleveland Indians are recognized in all corners of the country, with the possible exception of Boston, as the world's baseball champions, but as the New York Giants might say: "So what?"

The booming bats of the thundrous easterners opened fire on the "champs" for the third straight day yesterday and the New Yorkers had little trouble winning a 10-4 verdict behind a 17-hit barrage at Fort Houston.

Some of the 14,000 fans who watched the slaughter went home wondering why the Empire City sluggers finished fifth in the National league last year.

Without batting an eyebrow, however, the brave little Injuns took their medicine and promised to avenge the defeat when they will send Fireballer Bob Feller to the mound at Ft. Worth.

The last time Feller hurled against the Giants, they blasted him for four runs in the first three innings. That was his first start of the season, however.

GAME VICTIMS

Early Wynn and Satchel Paige, both of whom have been impressive this spring, were the victims of yesterday's onslaught. Wynn pitched the first five frames, giving up six runs and 10 hits. Satchmo chucked the last four and was blasted for four runs and seven bingles.

It was the first time this spring that the ancient Alabaman' had been scored upon. He was tagged for all four of the runs in the sixth inning when the Giants opened a six-hit attack. Paige allowed only one scratch hit from then on, however.

The defeat was the 13th for the Indians in 25 exhibition games. It also was their fourth loss in seven games with the Giants, their perennial spring playmates.

Larry Doby gave the Indians a spark of hope in the sixth when he blasted a home run with two mates aboard. It was estimated that the ball travelled 475 feet, which would be the longest ball ever hit in the Houston park. Doby also rapped a double.

Bob Kennedy and Mickey Vernon, who seems to have found his batting eye, also collected two hits apiece.

PITCHING SAD

Cleveland's pitching, as a whole, has looked sad against the Giants. In seven games, the New Yorkers have scored 59 runs and 96 hits against Tribe flingers, an average of nine runs and 14 hits per game.

Gene Bearden, hero of the 1948 world series, has been the only Tribe moundsman with any degree of success against the Giants. He pitched five innings and allowed but one run.

Thurman Tucker, Tribe outer gardener, was given permission to skip yesterday's game, so that he could spend some time at home. Tucker lives at Mineral Wells, Tex., which is a short distance from Ft. Worth.

Election Set In Commission

Election of officers will feature the second meeting of the Mansfield Athletic commission tonight at the municipal courtroom at the city building.

Lynch Rests at Top Of 'A' Pin League

Bob Lynch rested at his customary place atop the City A league last night with a 647 series for the league-leading Bissman's quintet. Lynch racked up games of 182, 257, and 208 to edge out four other bowlers who also topped the the 600 mark.

His toughest competition came from Joe Lain of Ace Cabs, who pounded out 196-212-232—640. H. Henry tossed 225-206-199—630 for Mid-Ohio, Henry Michaels had 192-215-222—629 for Jerry's 36 Bar, and Fritz Vogel, Mid-Ohio, counted 213-191-206—610.

Nine others failed to reach the honor roll when they were stymied between the 575 and 600 mark.

Art Hilborn led this group with 591 for Bissman's. Others were: Joe Frisch, Waldman Meats, 588; Richard McKinney, Eagles, 586; Carl Heilman, Ace Cabs, 586; Floyd Messmore, Bissman's, 582; Hal LeMunyon, Jerry's 36 Bar, 582; and three Mitsch's bowlers, Frank Burton, 589, Harold Selby, 584, and Carl Englehorn, 576.

Mitsch's swept three games from Max Diner and Waldman's had a sweep over Liederkranz. Bissman's maintained its one-game lead by winning two of three, the same record as compiled by second-place 36 Bar. Mitsch's had 2,885.

Only sweep was by OSR over Mansfield Machine.

400 Enlist In Junior Ball Group

Some 400 Mansfielders have already put their stamp of approval on the Hot Stove league's junior baseball program.

With the drive for 1949 members less than four days old, Hot Stovers have "sold" 400 memberships at one dollar a throw. All funds derived from the memberships will go towards equipping Mansfield youngsters with baseball paraphernalia.

Hot Stove officials have put up a goal of 3,000 members and 2,500 tickets have been issued to members of the booster group and Mansfield industries. Downtown ticket offices are City News, Ideal Billiards, Ohio Sport Center, Yuncker Sports and Penn Auto-Sporting Goods.

Handling the campaigns in Mansfield plants are: Gerry Dent, Mansfield Tires; Jack Miner, Dominion Electric; Curtis Lehner, Ideal Electric and Harry Dailey, Westinghouse.

Twenty-five teams competed in the first year of Hot Stove junior ball in 1948 and an entry list of 30 squads is expected for this summer's program. Leagues will be divided into four age groups, 17-18, 15-16, 13-14 and 12 and under.

The older fellows will play in a county circuit. Teams will again be chosen from each of the Mansfield voting wards and the youngest group will represent elementary schools.

Cincinnati Reds Blank Boston Braves, 7 to 0

Yankees No Can Hit Homers This Spring

PENSACOLA, Fla.—(AP)—Herman Wehmeier, a hometown boy, may be the standout pitcher the Cincinnati Reds have been looking for to bolster their 1949 club.

Manager Bucky Walters gave the 22-year-old right-hander from Cincinnati's Price Hill section that verbal pat on the back today as he named him to face the St. Louis Cardinals.

"Wehmeier has made a terrific impression on me this spring," said Bucky. "He's much faster and seems to have a better idea of what he is doing out there on the mound."

Two other Cincinnati pitchers, Johnny Vander Meer and Harry Gumbert, had reason to feel satisfied with themselves today. They combined to hurl the Reds to a 7-0 victory over the Boston Braves at Jacksonville yesterday.

Vandy worked the first seven innings, giving up five hits, and Gumbert was touched for three in the final two rounds. The Reds made things easy for Vander Meer as they turned in four double plays during his stay on the mound.

Danny Litwhiler clouted a two-run homer in the first inning to start Warren Spahn, the Braves' ace lefty, on the road to defeat.

★

Rap Only Three . . .

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. —(AP) Home runs, their chief instrument of destruction in the past, are coming fewer and farther between for the New York Yankees these days.

In 24 games the New Yorkers have hit only three round-trippers. Johnny Lindell, Jerry Coleman and Tommy Henrich struck the blows.

★

Dusak to Pitch . . .

PENSACOLA, Fla. —(AP)— Ex-Outfielder Erv Dusak was scheduled for another workout as a St. Louis Cardinal pitcher today against the Cincinnati Reds.

On two previous pitching appearances Dusak worked against the Boston Braves and the Reds. He gave the Braves four hits, five walks and six runs in two innings. Against the Reds last Sunday he hurled five innings, allowed just three hits, two walks and one run.

★

Cubs Win, 8 to 5 . . .

DALLAS, Tex. —(AP)— Bill Kennedy, a southpaw, drew the starting assignment on the mound for the St. Louis Browns today in a game against the Chicago Cubs.

The Cubs hold a six-to-three edge in the exhibition series with the Browns. Chicago put across seven runs in the seventh inning yesterday to beat the Browns 8-5.

★

Call on Muncrief . . .

HOUSTOI, Tex. —(AP)— Turned back in their last three games, the Pittsburgh Pirates will place their hopes of victory in Pitcher Bob Muncrief for today's game with Houston of the Texas league.

Pittsburgh Manager Bill Meyer said Kirby Higbe probably will be called on for the late innings.

★

Dick Goes Route . . .

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. —(U.P.)— If Dick (no hit) Fowler doesn't top his 15 victories of last year for the Philadelphia Athletics, it won't be because he wasn't ready for the start of the season.

The 28-year-old, Canadian-born righthander turned in another full game yesterday, giving up only four hits to beat the New York Yankees, 6 to 1.

The Athletics play a night game here tonight against the Birmingham Barons, who yesterday beat Detroit, 2 to 1.

★

Miller to Second . . .

ATLANTA, Ga. —(UP)— Manager Eddie Sawyer of the Philadelphia Phils today named Eddie Miller, former shortstop, as the team's regular second-baseman and said "he'll be one of the best in the league."

The Phils will clash again today with the Atlanta Crackers, whom they defeated last night, 7 to 5.

Rickey Sees Leo About One First Sacker

— President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants were scheduled to confer here today in a meting rife with possibilities.

This was the first time that Durocher and Rickey have met officially since Lippy Leo quit the Dodgers for the Giants under Rickey's none-to-gentle prodding.

Rickey came to Fort Worth today somewhat with hat in hand. The Mahatma of Montague street was trying to play cagy, but he could not withhold the secret that he was in dire need of a slugging first baseman and that Durocher had one to offer in the person of Johnny Mize.

Rickey has said he is not interested in Mize. That, however, could be so much bilgewater designed to disarm the Giants and make a sale or trade easier on the Brooklyn pocketbook certainly the Dodger first sack headache was accented yesterday.

Gil Hodges, the man currently assigned to first mostly on the basis of squatter's rights, showed his batting prowess by striking out three times in a game against the Tulsa, Okla., oilers of the Texas league.

FAST SHUFFLE

The desperation was further pointed up when Brooklyn sent one rookie first baseman, Dee Fondy, off to its Fort Worth farm club and immediately called up another, Chuck Conners, from Montreal.

Through all of this Branch Ricket, jr., has been conferring with the Giants to set the stage for trading.

Some reports have said that Rickey would be willing to bypass Mize and take Tookie Gilbert, a Giant farm hand first baseman now with Nashville of the southern association.

Blames Exile On Pasquel

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., — (UP) —Mickey Owen, former Brooklyn Dodger catcher, today blamed Mexican baseball promoter Jorge Pasquel for his exile from American organized baseball.

Owen made the charge in Federal district court, where a jury is hearing simultaneously the suits brought by Owen and Pasquel against one another.

Owen sued Pasquel, who hired him to play in the Mexican league, for $93,000 alleging that he was fired without "cuase of justification."

Pasquel sued Owen for $127,000, charging that the catcher jumped his Mexican league contract.

5 Lettermen Try for Spots On Golf Team

Although the first match is not scheduled until April 23, Senior high school golf coach V. H. Oberlander today announced that he planned to hold qualifiers for the squad the first of next week.

Five lettermen are among the candidates for the squad and Oberlander is anxious to cut the number as soon as possible to give more attention to the individuals.

Back from last year's team are Larry Inscore, Westbrook caddy champion the past two years, Ed Percy, Mike Oliveri, Tony Taddeo, and Steve Demyan. The sixth letterman, Jim Chamberlain, is still in school, but is having trouble with an arm injured when he was struck by an auto last fall.

Two promising sophomores — Jimmy Hager and Bud Baith — are among the candidates. Jimmy, brother of Al Hager, was the caddy tournament runner-up last year, while Baith also got experience as a caddy.

Others on the squad include J. H. Johnson, Ed Doklovich, Charles Vandlik, Charlie Brown, Ralph Sorenson, Robert Scadova, Dean Hahn, and Darwin Thatcher.

First practice for the team was held Monday and the boys are working out at every opportunity at Westbrook and Coolridge. Norwalk comes here to open the season two weeks from Saturday.

Dickey will graduate from Ohio U in June. As basketball coach, he will succeed Sam Hatfield, who was retained as head football and baseball coach.
